Before the trial Court, the respondent, in this Criminal Revision Case, filed a petition against the revision petitioner under Section 125 of the Code of Criminal Procedure praying for a direction, directing the revision petitioner to pay a sum of Rs.10,000/- per month for maintenance. The learned Judge, Family Court, Tirunelveli, by order, dated 14.12.2016 allowed the application filed by the respondent and directed the revision petitioner to pay a sum of Rs.10,000/- per month as maintenance. Challenging the same, the petitioner is before this Court.

3. Today, when this Criminal Revision Case is taken up for hearing, the learned counsel appearing for the revision petitioner is appeared before this Court through Video Conferencing. He would submit that due to the efforts made by the elder members of the family, the dispute between the revision petitioner and the respondent has been settled and thereby, lump sum payment was given to the respondent as a permanent alimony. He would further submit that when at the time of entering into compromise the petitioner is permitted the respondent to take Rs.15,000/- lying in the court deposit, as per the direction of this Court, dated 23.02.2017 towards the part of permanent alimony.

4. In this regard, on behalf of the revision petitioner, the learned counsel appearing on behalf of the revision petitioner filed a memo, dated 06.08.2021. The memo filed by the revision petitioner is recorded. Hence, in view of the terms of compromise, the respondent in this Criminal Revision Case is permitted to withdraw Rs.15,000/- which is lying in the Court deposit as above, by filing appropriate application before the learned Judge, Family Court, Tirunelveli. If such application is filed, the learned Judge, Family Court, Tirunelveli, is directed to pass appropriate orders and disburse the said sum of Rs.15,000/- to the respondent.

5. Hence, in view of the above, the petitioner is permitted to withdraw the Criminal Revision Case and accordingly, this Criminal Revision Case is dismissed as withdrawn.
