CORAM: HON'BLE MR. JUSTICE JASWANT SINGH
HON'BLE MR. JUSTICE SANT PARKASH

Present: Mr. Hoshiar Singh Jaswal, Advocate, for the petitioner.

Mr. Anil Lamdharia, APP, U.T. Chandigarh.

SANT PARKASH, J.

By filing the instant criminal writ petition under Article 226 of the Constitution of India, petitioner prays for extension of parole already granted to her till 25.04.2021 for four weeks to look after her child aged about 01 year 04 months.

The petitioner was tried in FIR No.159, dated 10.05.2013, under Section 302 IPC, registered at Police Station, Sector 31, Chandigarh. Accordingly, she has been convicted and sentenced to undergo life imprisonment, vide judgment of conviction and order of sentence dated 18.04.2014. Against the judgment of conviction and order of sentence, petitioner filed an appeal before this Court, which is still pending admitted for final adjudication.

This Court has heard the learned counsel for the parties and perused the case file.

Admittedly, the petitioner has availed parole for number of times since the date of conviction and she also remained on interim bail for around 1½ years on account of her pregnancy. The petitioner was released on parole on 27.03.2021 with the direction to surrender back on 25.04.2021.

The petitioner has approached this Court for extension of parole already granted to her till 25.04.2021 to look after her small child. This Court vide order dated 23.04.2021 extended the parole of the petitioner till 16.07.2021. It was again extended on 14.07.2021 till 26.08.2021 and further extended till 15.09.2021 vide order dated 25.08.2021.

Learned counsel for the State argues that the petitioner has availed parole and extension thereof was granted number of times on similar grounds. He thus, submits that the present petition may be disposed of, as having been rendered infructuous.

Since, the purpose for extending parole to the petitioner has been fulfilled as she is already availing extension of parole for more than the period she had requested, the instant petition has been rendered infructuous.

In view of the above, present criminal writ petition has become infructuous and the same is disposed of, accordingly.
