ORAL ORDER

3 27-07-2022 No one appears on behalf of the petitioner once again to press this application. On 15.07.2022 finding that no one was appearing for the petitioner this Court had adjourned the matter by way of an indulgence.

This case is of the year 2018 and it relates to the maintenance of the wife who is opposite party before this Court. A perusal of the impugned judgment shows that the applicant-wife has been allowed a maintenance allowance of Rs. 2000/- per month against which the petitioner has moved this Court.

Considering that there are clinching materials showing that the petitioner has performed a second Nikah and is living with his second wife with whom he has got a female child also, whereas he is neglecting this opposite party, this Court finds that no interference is required to the impugned order. The learned court below has allowed only a meagre amount of Rs. 2000/- per month which cannot be said to be excessive in the present days economic condition and the price index of the country.

This revision application has, thus, no merit. It is dismissed accordingly.

The learned Principal Judge, Family Court, Banka is directed to expedite the process of recovery from the petitioner.
