

3. It is clear from this order that service of the petitioner is duly protected although, she would not be entitled to be promoted by claiming that she belongs to Schedule Tribe category. Yet, as submitted by the learned Counsel for the applicant, an attempt is being made to withhold salary and allowances which are part of the salary payable to the petitioner from March, 2022. If any such attempt is being made, it would be in breach of the interim protection granted to the applicant on 24th July, 2017 and, we, therefore, direct respondent No.3 to refrain from entering into breach of the interim protection granted to the applicant on 24th July, 2017. Respondent No.3 also would not stop salary and allowances which are part of the salary payable to the petitioner.

4. Interim Application is disposed of.
