2. The case of the prosecution is that the de-facto complainant came to the shop of the 1st petitioner, where the 2nd petitioner is an employee, to enquire about the whereabouts of the brother-in-law of the 1st petitioner, who allegedly owes money to the de-facto complainant. Where a wordy quarrel arose between them and the petitioners herein alleged to have attacked the de-facto complainant with hands. Hence, the complaint.

3. The learned counsel for the petitioners would submit that the petitioners are innocent persons and they have not committed any offence as alleged by the prosecution. Therefore, he prays to grant anticipatory bail to the petitioners.

4. The learned Additional Public Prosecutor would submit that the petitioners attacked the de-facto complainant causing simple injuries and the injured has been treated as out-patient in the hospital. However, he vehemently opposed to grant anticipatory bail to the petitioners.
