Crl.O.P.No.17003 of 2022

G.K.ILANTHIRAIYAN, J.

The petitioner who apprehends arrest at the hands of the respondent police for the offences punishable under Sections 5 and 6 of POCSO Act, and later altered into Section 7 r/w 8 of the POCSO Act in Crime No.Not Known, seeks anticipatory bail.

2. The case of the prosecution is that the minor victim girl who is aged about 15 years had love affair with the petitioner and they got married and lived as husband and wife, she became pregnant. They went to hospital to check up the pregnancy, while examining the victim girl, the medical examiner referred the matter to the Government home. The official authorities of the said Government home had made complaint as against the petitioner.

3. The learned counsel for the petitioner would submit that the petitioner is an innocent person and he has not committed any such offence as alleged by the prosecution. Therefore, he prays to grant anticipatory bail to the petitioner.

4. The learned Additional Public Prosecutor would submit that the petitioner's wife is a minor victim girl . Hence, he vehemently opposed to grant anticipatory bail to the petitioner.

5. A perusal of available records reveals that though the victim girl is aged about 15 years, the petitioner and the victim girl got married. Thereby, she became pregnant and they are living happily.

6. Considering the above fact and circumstances of the case and also considering the submissions made by both counsel, this Court is inclined to grant anticipatory bail to the petitioner with certain conditions.

6. Accordingly, the petitioner is ordered to be released on bail in
