The petitioners who apprehend arrest at the hands of the respondent police for the offences punishable under Sections 447, 294(b), 323 and 506(2) of IPC and Section 4 of Tamil Nadu Prohibition of Harassment of Women Act, 2002, in Crime No.122 of 2022, seek anticipatory bail.

2. The case of the prosecution is that there was dispute between the petitioners and the defacto complainant regarding removal of branch of tree and the petitioners have also taken coconuts from the land of the defacto complainant. When the same was questioned by the defacto complainant, there was a wordy quarrel between the petitioners and the defacto complainant. It is also alleged that the petitioners abused the defacto complainant in filthy language and also attacked her and her son and threatened them with dire consequences. Hence, the complaint.

3. The learned counsel for the petitioners would submit that the petitioners are the innocent persons and they have not committed any offence as alleged by the prosecution. Therefore, he prays for grant of anticipatory bail to the petitioners.

4. The learned Additional Public Prosecutor would submit that the petitioners attacked the defacto complainant and caused injuries and the injured is treated as out patient. He would also submit that it is a case of case in counter. However, he vehemently opposed to grant anticipatory bail to the petitioners.

5. Considering the above facts and circumstances, this Court is inclined to grant anticipatory bail to the petitioners with certain conditions.

6. Accordingly, the petitioners are ordered to be released on bail in the event of arrest or on their appearance, within a period of fifteen days from the date on which the order copy made ready, before the learned
