ORDER

This Criminal Original Petition has been filed to direct the respondent to register the case on the complaint given by the petitioner dated 08.04.2022 and proceed with the investigation.

Crl.O.P.No.25622 of 2022

2. Heard the learned counsel for the petitioner and the learned

Additional Public Prosecutor appearing for the respondent.

3. The learned counsel for the petitioner submitted that it is a case of job racketing and in which, FIR ought to have been registered; hence he is seeking a suitable direction to the respondent police to register the FIR on the complaint given by the petitioner on 08.04.2022.

4. The learned Additional Public Prosecutor appearing for the respondent submitted that the petition enquiry has been conducted on the complaint given by the petitioner and the same has been closed on 20.04.2022.

5. The petitioner has got an efficacious alternate remedy under Section 156(3) of Cr.P.C. to get appropriate order from the jurisdictional Magistrate himself. The learned Division Bench of this Court has already held in the case of G.Prabhakaran v. The Superintendent of Police, Thanjavur reported in (2018) 2 LW Crl 489 that when there is an alternate efficacious remedy available under Section 156 (3) of Cr.P.C., the power of the Court under Section 482 of Cr.P.C., cannot be invoked. In the said judgment, it is held as under :

“35. Accordingly, we answer the references in the following manner, while giving certain directions:

(i) Section 482 Cr.P.C. cannot be invoked in all circumstances.

(ii) It is not an alternative remedy to Section 156(3) Cr.P.C. but a repository of inherent power.

(iii) The normal course of remedy on a failure or refusal to record the information is Section 156(3) of the Code of Criminal Procedure after due compliance of Section 154(3) Cr.P.C.

(iv) A petition can be filed invoking the inherent jurisdiction of this Court only after the completion of 15 days from the date of receipt of the information by the Station House Officer. The Registry shall not receive any petition before the expiry of 15 days aforesaid.

(v) No petition shall be entertained without exhausting the remedy under Section 154(3) Cr.P.C.

(vi) An informant can send substance of the information to the Superintendent of Police on knowing the decision of the Station House Officer in not registering the case and proceeding with the preliminary enquiry. After conducting the preliminary enquiry, the Station House Officer's decision in either registering the complaint or closing it will have to be intimated to the informant immediately and in any case not later than 7 days. Once such a decision is made, the informant cannot invoke Section 482 Cr.P.C. as the remedy lies elsewhere.

(vii) The directions issued by the Director General of Police in the circulars referred are to be strictly complied with by all the Station House Officers.

(viii) The affidavit to be filed shall contain particulars regarding the date of complaint, receipt and the date of sending substances of the information to the superintendent of Police under Section 154(3) Cr.P.C. and its receipt. The Registry shall not number any petition without due compliance.

(ix) This Court is not bound to direct the police to register the complaint in all cases notwithstanding the breach of time table furnished in Lalitha Kumari's case.

(x) The judicial Magistrates, while dealing the petitions under Sections 156(3) Cr.P.C. are directed to keep in mind the narratives in Lalitha Kumari's case with specific reference to the cases, which might require a preliminary enquiry before issuing a direction to investigate and after careful perusal of the complaint. The other directions issued by the learned Single Judge in Sugesan Transport's case are upheld.

(xi) Eschewing Section 156(3) Cr.P.C. is only on exceptional and rarest of rare cases. Monstrosity of the offence, extreme official apathy and indifference, need to answer the judicial conscience, and existence of hostile environment are few of the factors to be borne in mind to bring a case under the rarest of rare one.

The references stands ordered accordingly.”

6. In view of the above direction, the Registry ought not to have taken the case on file without placing the matter on the point of maintainability. The petitioner has come to this Court without exhausting the remedy available under Section 156 (3) of Cr.P.C., after observing the procedure contemplated in Section 154(3) of Cr.P.C.

7. With the above observations, this Criminal Original Petition is disposed.
