This criminal revision case has been filed challenging the order passed in M.C.No.64 of 2017 by the Family Court, Tirunelveli, thereby challenging order of maintenance of Rs.5000/- each to the respondents and Rs.2000/- to the second respondent towards medical and educational expenses.

2.The petitioner is the husband while the first respondent is the wife. They got married on 04.09.2008 and out of the wedlock, they were blessed with the second respondent on 05.04.2011. Their matrimonial relationship came under strain due to some misunderstanding. The petitioner filed H.M.O.P.No.285 of 2013 before the Sub Court, Tambaram for restitution of conjugal rights and the same was dismissed. Hence, he filed a petition for divorce and the same was also dismissed. Challenging the same, the petitioner filed an appeal and the same is pending. In the meanwhile, the respondents filed a petition for maintenance in M.C.No.64 of 2017 before the Family Court, Tirunelveli.

3.On a perusal of the records revealed that the petitioner was working as software engineer in RL Technologies Private Limited,

Kodambakkam, Chennai and was earning a sum of Rs.80,000/- per month. The salary certificate of the petitioner was marked as Ex.P6. Though the learned counsel for the petitioner submitted that now the petitioner is without job, it cannot be believed because the petitioner is a software engineer, he used to quit one company and join another company for higher wages. Therefore, this Court felt that the maintenance awarded by the Family Court, Tirunelveli in M.C.No.64 of 2017 is very meager and it does warrant any interference. Therefore, the criminal revision case stands dismissed. Consequently, connected miscellaneous petition is closed.
