VINOD S. BHARDWAJ. J. (ORAL)

By means of the instant petition, the jurisdiction of this Court under Section 482 Cr.P.C. has been invoked for seeking quashing of FIR No.113 dated 16.12.2021 under Sections 341, 323, 324, 379, 148 and 149 of the IPC registered at Police Station Mallanwala, District Ferozepur and all other consequential proceedings arising therefrom, on the basis of compromise deed and affidavit dated 27.12.2021 and 04.01.2022 respectively (Annexures P-2 and P-3) entered between the parties.

2 Vide order dated 02.02.2022 of this Court, the parties were directed to appear before the learned trial Court/Illaq Magistrate to get their statements recorded regarding the compromise arrived at between the parties and a report in this regard was called for.

3. Pursuant to the said order, report has been received from the Judicial Magistrate First Class, Zira vide Memo No.119 dated 07.03.2022. The relevant extracted of the report is reproduced as under:-

Complainant Lovepreet Singh son of Ajit Singh, resident of village Jhatra, Tehsil Zira, District Ferozepur has appeared and suffered statement that:-

"Stated that I am the complainant in the above said FIR. I have compromised the matter with all the accused. There are total two accused in this case. The compromise is voluntarily with free consent and is not result of any pressure, coercion or undue influence etc. in any manner and my statement is bonafide. The compromise effected between us is genuine and valid. I have no objection if the present FIR is quashed against the accused. I have submit the photocopy of Adhar Card which is Mark-A1."

Victim Amandeep Singh son of Jagsir Singh, resident of village Jhatra, Tehsil Zira, District Ferozepur has appeared and suffered statement that:-

"Stated that I am the Victim in the above said FIR. I have compromised the matter with all the accused. There are total two accused in this case. The compromise is voluntarily with free consent and is not result of any pressure, coercion or undue influence etc. in any manner and my statement is bonafide. The compromise effected between us is genuine and valid. I have no objection if the present FIR is quashed against the accused. I have submit the photocopy of Adhar Card which is Mark-A2."

Sh. Tajinder Singh Bhullar, Advocate has appeared and suffered statement that:-

"Stated that I produce and identify accused Taar Singh @ Tarn Singh son of Nachhatar Singh and Nachhatar Singh son of Jagir Singh, both are resident of village Kohala, Khosa Dal Singh, Tehsil Zira, District Ferozepur in FIR No.113 dated 16.12.2021 under section 341, 323, 324, 379, 148, 149 of IPC, Police Station Mallan Wala."

Accused Taar Singh @ Tara Singh son of Nachhattar Singh and accused Nachhattar Singh son of Jagir Singh, both are resident of village Kohala, Khosa Dal Singh, Tehsil Zira, District Ferozepur have also appeared and suffered joint statement that:-

"Stated that we have compromised the matter with the complainant and Victim. There are total two accused in this case. The compromise is voluntarily with free consent and is not result of any pressure, coercion or undue influence etc, in any manner and my statement is bonafide. The compromise effected between us is genuine and valid. The photocopies of our Adhar Card Mark-A3 and Mark-A4 respectively."

ASI Sukhchain Singh No.1542/Fzr, posted as Chowki Incharge Khosa Dal Singh of PS Mallan Wala, Investigating Officer in this case has appeared and suffered statement that:-

"Stated that I am investigating officer in the above said FIR. I produce and identify accused Taar Singh @ Tara Singh son of Nachhattar Singh and accused Nachhattar Singh son of Jagir Singh, both are resident of village Kohala, Khosa Dal Singh, Tehsil Zira, District Ferozepur in FIR No.113 dated 16.12.2021 under section 341, 323, 324, 379, 148, 149 of IPC, Police Station Mallan Wala. There are total five accused in this FIR out of which two accused have joined the investigation and remaining three are unknown. No accused has been declared Proclaimed offender in this FIR so far. As the matter is under investigation, therefore, Charge Sheet under Section 173 Cr.PC has not been presented so far. As per our record no other FIR has been registered against above said accused."

Now, as per the statement of ASI Sukhchain Singh No.1542/Fzr, Investigating Officer in this FIR, (i) There are total five accused persons arrayed in this FIR, out of which two accused have joined the investigation and remaining three are unknown , (ii) No accused person has been declared as Proclaimed Offender, (iii) As the matter is under investigation, therefore, Charge Sheet under Section 173 Cr.PC has not been presented so far, so the stage of trial/proceedings is for awaiting challan.

Hence, from the above said discussion, (iv) I am satisfied that compromise arrived at between parties is voluntary with free consent, genuine and is not result of any pressure or coercion etc. in any manner and without any coercion undue influence and fear.

4. Learned State counsel does not dispute the factum of the compromise amongst the parties and does not have any serious objection to the resolution of the dispute amongst the parties.

5. Mr. Rupinder Rana, Advocate appears on behalf of respondent Nos. 2 and 3 and reiterates the settlement and his concurrence to the FIR and all the other consequential proceeding being quashed.

6. The Full Bench of this Court in the matter of “Kulwinder Singh and others versus State of Punjab and another” reported as (Punjab and Haryana High Court) : 2007 (3) RCR (Criminal) 1052 has been observed as under:

'(28) To conclude, it can safely be said that there can never be any hard and fast category which can be prescribed to enable the Court to exercise its power under Section 482 of the Cr.P.C. The only principle that can be laid down is the one which has been incorporated in the Section itself, i.e., "to prevent abuse of the process of any Court" or "to secure the ends of justice".

(29) In Mrs. Shakuntala Sawhney v. Mrs. Kaushalya Sawhney and Ors., Hon'ble Krishna Iyer, J. aptly summoned up the essence of compromise in the following words:

“The finest hour of justice arrives propitiously when parties, despite falling apart, bury the hatchet and weave a sense of fellowship of reunion.”

(30) The power to do complete justice is the very essence of every judicial justice dispensation system. It cannot be diluted by distorted perceptions and is not a slave to anything, except to the caution and circumspection, the standards of which the Court sets before it, in exercise of such plenary and unfettered power inherently vested in it while donning the cloak of compassion to achieve the ends of justice.

(31) No embargo, be in the shape of Section 320(9) of the Cr.P.C., or any other such curtailment, can whittle down the power under Section 482 of the Cr.P.C.

(32) The compromise, in a modern society, is the sine qua non of harmony and orderly behaviour. It is the soul of justice and if the power under Section 482 of the Cr.P.C. is used to enhance such a compromise which, in turn, enhances the social amity and reduces friction, then it truly is "finest hour of justice". Disputes which have their genesis in a matrimonial discord, landlord-tenant matters, commercial transactions and other such matters can safely be dealt with by the Court by exercising its powers under Section 482 of the Cr.P.C. in the event of a compromise, but this is not to say that the power is limited to such cases. There can never be any such rigid rule to prescribe the exercise of such power, especially in the absence of any premonitions to forecast and predict eventualities which the cause of justice may throw up during the course of a litigation.

(33) The only inevitable conclusion from the above discussion is that there is no statutory bar under the Cr.P.C. which can affect the inherent power of this Court under Section 482. Further, the same cannot be limited to matrimonial cases alone and the Court has the wide power to quash the proceedings even in non-compoundable offences notwithstanding the bar under Section 320 of the Cr.P.C., in order to prevent the abuse of law and to secure the ends of justice.

(34) The power under Section 482 of the Cr.P.C. is to be exercised Ex-Debitia Justitia to prevent an abuse of process of Court. There can neither be an exhaustive list nor the defined para-meters to enable a High Court to invoke or exercise its inherent powers. It will always depend upon the facts and circumstances of each case. The power under Section 482 of the Cr.P.C. has no limits. However, the High Court will exercise it sparingly and with utmost care and caution. The exercise of power has to be with circumspection and restraint. The Court is a vital and an extra-ordinary effective instrument to maintain and control social order. The Courts play role of paramount importance in achieving peace, harmony and ever-lasting congeniality in society. Resolution of a dispute by way of a compromise between two warring groups, therefore, should attract the immediate and prompt attention of a Court which should endeavour to give full effect to the same unless such compromise is abhorrent to lawful composition of the society or would promote savagery.

7. The legal principles as laid down for quashing of the judgment were also approved by the Hon'ble Supreme Court in the matter of 'Gian Singh Versus State of Punjab and another,(2012)10 SCC303'. Still further, the broad principles for exercising the powers under Section 482 were summarized by the Hon'ble Supreme Court in the matter of 'Parbatbhai Aahir @ Parbatbhai Bhimsinhbhai Karmur and others versus State of Gujarat and another" (2017) 9 SCC 641', the same are extracted as under:

16. The broad principles which emerge from the precedents on the subject, may be summarised in the following propositions :

16.1 Section 482 preserves the inherent powers of the High Court to prevent an abuse of the process of any court or to secure the ends of justice. The provision does not confer new powers. It only recognises and preserves powers which inhere in the High Court;

16.2 The invocation of the jurisdiction of the High Court to quash a First Information Report or a criminal proceeding on the ground that a settlement has been arrived at between the offender and the victim is not the same as the invocation of jurisdiction for the purpose of compounding an offence. While compounding an offence, the power of the court is governed by the provisions of Section 320 of the Code of Criminal Procedure, 1973. The power to quash under Section 482 is attracted even if the offence is non-compoundable.

16.3 In forming an opinion whether a criminal proceeding or complaint should be quashed in exercise of its jurisdiction under Section 482, the High Court must evaluate whether the ends of justice would justify the exercise of the inherent power;

16.4 While the inherent power of the High Court has a wide ambit and plenitude it has to be exercised; (i) to secure the ends of justice or (ii) to prevent an abuse of the process of any court;

16.5 The decision as to whether a complaint or First Information Report should be quashed on the ground that the offender and victim have settled the dispute, revolves ultimately on the facts and circumstances of each case and no exhaustive elaboration of principles can be formulated;

16.6 In the exercise of the power under Section 482 and while dealing with a plea that the dispute has been settled, the High Court must have due regard to the nature and gravity of the offence. Heinous and serious offences involving mental depravity or offences such as murder, rape and dacoity cannot appropriately be quashed though the victim or the family of the victim have settled the dispute. Such offences are, truly speaking, not private in nature but have a serious impact upon society. The decision to continue with the trial in such cases is founded on the overriding element of public interest in punishing persons for serious offences;

16.7 As distinguished from serious offences, there may be criminal cases which have an overwhelming or predominant element of a civil dispute. They stand on a distinct footing in so far as the exercise of the inherent power to quash is concerned;

16.8 Criminal cases involving offences which arise from commercial, financial, mercantile, partnership or similar transactions with an essentially civil flavour may in appropriate situations fall for quashing where parties have settled the dispute;

16.9 In such a case, the High Court may quash the criminal proceeding if in view of the compromise between the disputants, the possibility of a conviction is remote and the continuation of a criminal proceeding would cause oppression and prejudice; and 16.10 There is yet an exception to the principle set out in propositions 16.8 and 16.9 above. Economic offences involving the financial and economic well-being of the state have implications which lie beyond the domain of a mere dispute between private disputants. The High Court would be justified in declining to quash where the offender is involved in an activity akin to a financial or economic fraud or misdemeanour. The consequences of the act complained of upon the financial or economic system will weigh in the balance.

8. It is evident that in view of the amicable resolution of the issues amongst the parties, no useful purpose would be served by continuation of the proceedings. The furtherance of the proceedings is likely to be a waste of judicial time and there appears to be no chances of conviction.

9. The Hon'ble Supreme Court has held in the matter of 'Ramgopal And Another Vs State of Madhya Pradesh, 2021 SCC Online SC 834', that the matters which can be categorized as personal in nature or in the matter in which the nature of injuries do not exhibit mental depravity or commission of an offence of such a serious nature that quashing of which would override public interest, the Court can quash the FIR in view of the settlement arrived at amongst the parties. The observation of the Hon'ble Supreme Court is extracted as under:-

19. We thus sum-up and hold that as opposed to Section 320 Cr.P.C. where the Court is squarely guided by the compromise between the parties in respect of offences 'compoundable' within the statutory framework, the extra-ordinary power enjoined upon a High Court under Section 482 Cr.P.C. or vested in this Court under Article 142 of the Constitution, can be invoked beyond the metes and bounds of Section 320 Cr.P.C. Nonetheless, we reiterate that such powers of wide amplitude ought to be exercised carefully in the context of quashing criminal proceedings, bearing in mind: (i) Nature and effect of the offence on the conscious of the society; (ii) Seriousness of the injury, if any; (iii) Voluntary nature of compromise between the accused and the victim; & (iv) Conduct of the accused persons, prior to and after the occurrence of the purported offence and/or other relevant considerations.

10. It is evident from a perusal of the FIR as well as the proceedings arising therefrom that:-

- (i) The dispute in question is in relation to the property and the same cannot be said to be shocking to the conscience of the Court or to that of the society at large;
- (ii) Petitioner No.1 is in his early 20s, whereas petitioner No.2 is more than 60 years of age. The protracted agony of criminal trial is likely to prejudice the career prospects of the petitioner No.1, who is at the threshold of his career and have serious toll on the health of petitioner No.2, who is more than 60 years of age;
- (iii) The dispute pertaining to the property cannot be said to be heinous or serious as would raise a public outcry;
- (iv) The FIR and its consequential proceedings are still at initial stages and good sense having prevailed amongst the parties, they have amicably resolved their differences;
- (v) The petitioners do not suffer from any criminal antecedents and have not indulged in any case of similar nature after registration of the case and during the pendency of the instant petition;

- (vi) There is nothing on record to suggest that the petitioners do not have any tendency to improve or that they are habitual offenders;
- (vii) The continuation of the proceedings is not likely to end in any fruitful result as the complainant as well as the victim are not likely to support the case of the prosecution. The entire exercise is likely to be a waste of judicial time;
- (viii) The parties have agreed to give a quietus to the dispute. Such an intention of the parties needs to be kept in mind and to be given due importance where the offence are not heinous or are offences against the society at large;
- (ix) Continuation of the proceedings is not likely to advance any larger public interest or secure any ends of justice.

11. In view of the report of the Judicial Magistrate First Class, Zira and the principles laid down by the Apex Court in Gian Singh Vs. State of Punjab and others (2012) 10 SCC 303, as well as Ramgopal And Another Vs State of Madhya Pradesh 2021 SCC Online SC 834 and also by the Full Bench of this Court in Kulwinder Singh and others Vs. State of Punjab and another, 2007(3) RCR (Criminal) 1052, the instant petition is allowed. The aforesaid FIR No.113 dated 16.12.2021 under Sections 341, 323, 324, 379, 148 and 149 of the IPC registered at Police Station Mallanwala, District Ferozepur and all other consequential proceedings arising therefrom, are hereby quashed qua the petitioners in view of compromise deed and affidavit dated 27.12.2021 and 04.01.2022 respectively (Annexures P-2 and P-3. However, the same would be subject to payment of costs of Rs.10,000/- to be deposited by the petitioners with the 'Poor Patients Welfare Fund at PGIMER, Chandigarh' within one month from receipt of certified copy of this order.

Petition is allowed.
