--Respondents

CORAM:- HON'BLE MR. JUSTICE RAJESH BHARDWAJ.

Present:- Mr. Vijay Lath, Advocate for the petitioners.

Mr. Karunesh Kaushal, A.A.G., Punjab.

None for respondent no.2.

RAJESH BHARDWAJ.J (Oral)

The present petition has been filed under Section 482 Cr.P.C praying for quashing of FIR No.82 dated 27.11.2019 registered under sections 406, 498-A IPC at Police Station, Morinda, Tehsil & District Rupnagar along with all the subsequent proceedings arising therefrom on the basis of compromise dated 4.12.2020 (Annexure P-2).

This Court vide orders dated 2.7.2021 directed the parties to appear before the Illaqa Magistrate for recording their statements, as contended before the Court, and the Illaqa Magistrate was also directed to send its report.

In pursuance to the same, learned ACJM, Rupnagar (Duty) sent his report dated 17.8.2021 to this Court. With the report he has also annexed the original statements of complainant Harjinder Kaur, petitioners/accused Bikramjit Singh and Barinder Singh recorded on 12.7.2021 along with statement of ASI Boota Singh recorded on 4.8.2021.

On the basis of the statements, learned ACJM, Rupnagar (Duty) has mentioned in the report that three accused namely Bikramjit Singh, Barinder Singh and Baljit Kaur @ Daljit Kaur had been arrayed as accused in the FIR, however, accused Baljit Kaur @ Daljit Kaur died on 27.1.2020 and her death certificate was placed on record. It is also stated in the report that it appears that the parties have entered into a compromise voluntarily and that there is no other accused in the present case and that petitioners/accused have not been declared Proclaimed Offender in this case.

I have heard learned counsel for the parties, perused the record and the report sent by learned ACJM, Rupnagar (Duty).

Learned counsel for the petitioners submits that the matter was amicably settled between the parties and in view of the compromise arrived at parties had duly appeared before the Illaqa Magistrate for recording their statements. He submits that the marriage in question already stands dissolved by a decree of divorce dated 10.8.2021 granted in a petition filed under Section 13-B of Hindu Marriage Act. Counsel submits that respondent no.2 was remarried in the month of May, 2022 and that is why she is not appearing before this court. He submits that petitioners have fulfilled all the conditions of the compromise arrived at between the parties.

Learned counsel for the petitioner has relied upon the cases of Mohd. Shamim V. Smt. Nahid Begum, 2005(1) RCR (Criminal) 697 and Ruchi Agarwal V. Amit Kumar Aggarwal, 2004(4) R.C.R (Criminal) 949 to substantiate his arguments.

This court issued notices to respondent no.2 for appearing before this court. As per report of the office, respondent no.2 has been duly served, however, none has appeared on her behalf.

I have heard learned counsel for the parties, perused the record and the report sent by learned ACJM, Rupnagar (Duty).

The Hon'ble Supreme Court in the case of Ruchi Agarwal's (supra) has held that in such like situation where the intention of the wife is to harass the petitioner-husband, continuation of criminal proceedings against the petitioner would be an abuse of the process of the Court especially when the petitioner-husband has performed his part of settlement and the respondent-wife is not coming forward to make statement in support of the compromise. Under these circumstances, the validity of the compromise cannot be negated.

A bare perusal of statutory provision of the 482 Cr.P.C. would show that the High Court may make such orders, as may be necessary to give effect to any order under this Code or to prevent abuse of the process of any Court or otherwise to secure the ends of justice. Section 320 Cr.P.C. is equally relevant for consideration, which prescribes the procedure for compounding of the offences under the Indian Penal Code.

Keeping in view the nature of offences allegedly committed and the fact that both the parties have amicably settled their dispute, the continuation of criminal prosecution would be a futile exercise. The Hon'ble Supreme Court in a number of cases including Narinder Singh and others Versus State of Punjab and another, 2014 (6) SCC 466; B.S.Joshi and others vs State of Haryana and another (2003) 4 Supreme Court Cases 675 followed by this Court in Full Bench case of Kulwinder Singh and others Vs. State of Punjab and another, 2007(3) RCR 1052 have dealt with the proposition involved in the present case and settled the law. Thereafter, Hon'ble Supreme Court in Gian Singh vs State of Punjab and another (2012) 10 Supreme Court Cases 303 further dealt with the issue and the earlier law settled by the Supreme Court for quashing of the FIR in State of Haryana vs Bhajan Lal, 1992 Supp (1) SCC 335. Para 61 of the judgment reads as under:-

“61. The position that emerges from the above discussion can be summarised thus: the power of the High Court in quashing a criminal proceeding or FIR or complaint in exercise of its inherent jurisdiction is distinct and different from the power given to a criminal court for compounding the offences under Section 320 of the Code. Inherent power is of wide plenitude with no statutory limitation but it has to be exercised in accord with the guideline engrafted in such power viz; (i) to secure the ends of justice, or (ii) to prevent abuse of the process of any Court. In what cases power to quash the criminal proceeding or complaint or F.I.R may be exercised where the offender and victim have settled their dispute would depend on the facts and circumstances of each case and no category can be prescribed. However, before exercise of such power, the High Court must have due regard to the nature and gravity of the crime. Heinous and serious offences of mental depravity or offences like murder, rape, dacoity, etc. cannot be fittingly quashed even though the victim or victim's family and the offender have settled the dispute. Such offences are not private in nature and have a serious impact on society. Similarly, any compromise between the victim and offender in relation to the offences under special statutes like Prevention of Corruption Act or the offences committed by public servants while working in that capacity, etc; cannot provide for any basis for quashing criminal proceedings involving such offences. But the criminal cases having overwhelmingly and pre-dominatingly civil flavour stand on a different footing for the purposes of quashing, particularly the offences arising from commercial, financial, mercantile, civil, partnership or such like transactions or the offences arising out of matrimony relating to dowry, etc. or the family disputes where the wrong is basically private or personal in nature and the parties have resolved their entire dispute. In this category of cases, the High Court may quash criminal proceedings if in its view, because of the compromise between the offender and the victim, the possibility of conviction is remote and bleak and continuation of the criminal case would put the accused to great oppression and prejudice and extreme injustice would be caused to him by not quashing the criminal case despite full and complete settlement and compromise with the victim. In other words, the High Court must consider whether it would be unfair or contrary to the interest of justice to continue with the criminal proceeding or continuation of the criminal proceeding would tantamount to abuse of process of law despite settlement and compromise between the victim and the wrongdoer and whether to secure the ends of justice, it is appropriate that criminal case is put to an end and if the answer to the above question(s) is in the affirmative, the High Court shall be well within its jurisdiction to quash the criminal proceeding.”

Applying the law settled by Hon'ble Supreme Court in plethora of judgments and this High Court, it is apparent that when the parties have entered into a compromise, then continuation of the proceedings would be merely an abuse of process of the Court and by allowing and accepting the prayer of the petitioners by quashing the FIR would be securing the ends of justice, which is primarily the object of the legislature enacting under Section 482 Cr.P.C.

As a result, this Court finds that the case in hand squarely falls within the ambit and parameters settled by judicial precedents and hence, FIR No.82 dated 27.11.2019 registered under sections 406, 498-A IPC at Police Station, Morinda, Tehsil & District Rupnagar and all the subsequent proceedings arising therefrom are quashed qua the petitioners on the basis of the compromise. Needless to say that the parties shall remain bound by the terms and conditions of the compromise and their statements recorded before the court below.

Petition stands allowed.
