

IN THE HIGH COURT OF PUNJAB & HARYANA AT CHANDIGARH

CRM-M-20376-2022

Date of decision : 22.09.2022

Amarjit Singh @ Amrit Singh

... Petitioner

Versus

State of Punjab

... Respondent

CORAM: HON'BLE MR.JUSTICE VIKAS BAHL

Present: Mr.Parminder Singh Sekhon, Advocate for the petitioner.

Mr.Ramdeep Partap Singh, Sr.DAG, Punjab.

VIKAS BAHL, J.(ORAL)

This is a petition under Section 439 Cr.P.C. for grant of regular bail to the petitioner in FIR no.112 dated 28.08.2021 registered under Sections 22-C of the Narcotic Drugs and Psychotropic Substances, Act, 1985 at Police Station Jhabal, District Tarn Taran.

Learned counsel for the petitioner has submitted that the earlier bail application was withdrawn by the petitioner on 28.04.2022 with liberty to file a fresh petition after giving better and full particulars and the petitioner has filed the present petition after complying with the said order and in effect, the present petition is thus, the first regular bail petition. It is further submitted that the petitioner has been in custody since 28.08.2021 (1 year 24 days) and the investigation is complete and the challan has already been presented and there are 13 witnesses and none of them have been examined and thus, the trial is likely to take time and the petitioner is not recovery memo would show that as per the case of the prosecution, the petitioner on seeing the police party, had thrown both the wrappers on the ground and the same had been picked up from the ground by the police and the intoxicant tablets were recovered from the same. It is further argued that in such a situation, the petitioner cannot be stated to be in conscious possession of the contraband and reliance has been placed upon a decision of a Coordinate Bench of this Court in CRM-M-16150-2021 dated 19.07.2021 titled as 'Balwinder Singh Vs. State of Punjab', and on judgement in CRM-M-33733-2020 dated 15.03.2021 titled as 'Manjit Singh Vs. State of Punjab alongwith connected matters'.

Learned State counsel, on the other hand, has opposed the present petition for regular bail and has submitted that although as per the FIR and recovery memo, the wrappers were picked up from the ground but the police officials had seen the petitioner throwing the said wrappers and thus, it cannot be stated that the petitioner was not in conscious possession of the same. Learned State counsel has produced on record the custody certificate, as per which the custody period as has been stated by learned counsel for the petitioner, stands reaffirmed.

This Court has heard learned counsel for the parties and has perused the paper book.

In Balwinder Singh's case (Supra), a Coordinate Bench of this Court has held as under:

“Briefly stated, case of the prosecution against the petitioner is that on 04.03.2019 police party headed by ASI Ravinder Singh on patrolling duty were coming to Tehang Octroi via Saiflabad. When they reached near Civil Hospital, Phillour they saw the petitioner coming on foot who on seeing the police party threw one heavy weight black coloured polythene bag and tried to run away. The police apprehended the petitioner and on search as per prescribed procedure recovered 55 intoxicant injections containing Buprenorphine 2 ml each and 55 injections containing Avil 10 ml each from the polythene bag.

XXX---XXX---XXX

On the other hand, learned State Counsel has argued that the petitioner kept in his conscious possession commercial quantity of intoxicant injections. Rigors of Section 37(1)(b) are fully applicable to the case of the petitioner. The petitioner does not deserve the concession of regular bail. Therefore, the petition may be dismissed.

However learned State Counsel has conceded that the petitioner is not involved in any other case under the NDPS Act.

In CRM-M-13662-2020 titled as 'Niranjan Kumar @ Kaka Vs. State of Punjab' decided on 06.07.2020; CRM-M-14474- 2020 titled as 'Dharminder Singh Vs. State of Punjab' decided on 24.06.2020; CRM-M-21020-2020 titled as 'Amritpal Singh Lamberdar Vs. State of Punjab' decided on 11.08.2020; CRMM6433-2018 titled as 'Pawan Kumar Vs. State of Punjab' decided on 23.02.2018 and CRM-M16380-2020 titled as 'Buta Singh Vs. State of Punjab' decided on 13.08.2020 where recovery of narcotic/psychotropic drug/substance was made from bag allegedly thrown on the road side by the accused, the case was considered to involve question as to whether the accused could be said to be in conscious possession thereof and the accused was granted regular bail.

In 'Chitta Biswas @ Subhash Vs. State of West Bengal' Criminal Appeal No.245 of 2020 SLP (Criminal) No.8823 of 2019 decided on 07.02.2020 where recovery of 46 bottles of phensydryl cough syrup containing codeine mixture above commercial quantity was made from the accused who was in custody since 21.07.2018 and out of 10 prosecution witnesses only 4 prosecution witnesses had been examined, the accused was granted bail by Hon'ble Supreme Court.

In the present case recovery of intoxicant injections was allegedly made from polythene bag allegedly thrown on the road side. The case involves debatable question as to whether the petitioner can be said to be in conscious possession of the contraband recovered from the polythene bag lying on the road side. The petitioner is not involved in any other case under the NDPS Act. Rigors of Section 37(1)(b) of the NDPS Act stand satisfied by due implication. Further, the petitioner is in custody since 04.03.2019. Prosecution evidence is yet to be recorded. The trial is likely to take long time due to restrictions imposed to prevent spread of Covid-19.

In view of the above referred judicial precedents and facts and circumstances of the case but without commenting on the merits of the case, I am of the considered view that the petitioner deserves the concession of regular bail.

Therefore, the petition is allowed and the petitioner is ordered to be released on regular bail on furnishing of bail bonds to the satisfaction of the trial Court/Duty Magistrate/Chief Judicial Magistrate concerned.

However, bail is granted to the petitioner subject to the condition that he will not commit any offence under the NDPS Act after his release on bail and in case of involvement of the petitioner in commission of any offence under the NDPS Act in future, his bail in the present case shall also be liable to be cancelled on application to be filed in this regard.”

A perusal of the above judgment would show that although in the said case also, the recovery effected was of commercial quantity but, since the recovery of the polythene bag therein was also after the same had been thrown on the ground, thus, it was observed that it was a debatable issue whether the petitioner could be said to be in conscious possession of the narcotic or not. It was also observed that the rigors of Section 37(1) (B) of the Act of 1985 stood satisfied by due implication.

Even in Manjit Singh's (supra) case, a Coordinate Bench of this Court dealt with a case in which, the allegation was that the petitioner therein was holding a polythene bag and on seeing the police party, he threw the said polythene bag. It was observed that it was not possible to conclude that the recovery effected was made from the conscious possession of the petitioner therein or not. The said case was also a case of

A co-ordinate Bench of this Court in a detailed judgment titled as Ankush Kumar @ Sonu v. State of Punjab reported as 2018 (4) RCR (Criminal) 84, had considered the provision of Section 37 of the NDPS Act in extenso and had granted bail in a case which involved commercial quantity. The relevant portion of the said judgment is reproduced as under:

“ xxx--xxx--xxx

But, so far as second part of Section 37 (1) (b) (ii), i.e. regarding the satisfaction of the Court based on reasons to believe that the accused would not commit 'any offence' after coming out of the custody, is concerned, this Court finds that this is the requirement which is being insisted by the State, despite the same being irrational and being incomprehensible from any material on record. As held above, this Court cannot go into the future mental state of the mind of the petitioner as to what he would be, likely, doing after getting released on bail. Therefore, if this Court cannot record a reasonable satisfaction that the petitioner is not likely to commit 'any offence' or 'offence under NDPS Act' after being released on bail, then this court, also, does not have any reasonable ground to be satisfied that the petitioner is likely to commit any offence after he is released on bail. Hence, this satisfaction of the Court in this regard is neutral qua future possible conduct of the petitioner.”

The Special Leave Petition (Criminal) Diary No.42609 of 2018 filed against the aforesaid judgment of the Co-ordinate Bench of this Court, was dismissed by the Hon'ble Supreme Court.

The petitioner has been in custody since 28.08.2021 (1 year 24 days) and the investigation is complete and the challan has already been presented and there are 13 witnesses and none of them have been examined and thus, the trial is likely to take time and the petitioner is stated to be not involved in any other case and the prosecution witnesses are the official witnesses and thus, the question of influencing them does not arise. On the

as in view of law laid down in the above cited judgments, the petitioner has a strong arguable point in his favour, which would prima facie show that there is a reasonable ground to believe that the petitioner may be acquitted by the trial Court. However, the said questions would be finally adjudicated during the course of trial. Since, the petitioner is stated to be not involved in any other case and also keeping in view the judgment passed in Ankush Kumar @ Sonu's case (Supra) which has been upheld by the Hon'ble Supreme Court, it could be reasonably said that the petitioner would not indulge in the criminal activities in the future.

Keeping in view the above said facts and circumstances as also the law laid down in the above cited judgments, this Court deems it appropriate to grant the concession of regular bail to the petitioner. Further, this Court proposes to impose such conditions that would meet the object of Section 37 of the Act of 1985.

Accordingly, the present petition is allowed and the petitioner is ordered to be released on regular bail on his furnishing bail/surety bonds to the satisfaction of the trial Court/Duty Magistrate, subject to him not being required in any other case. The petitioner shall also abide by the following conditions:-

1. The petitioner will not tamper with the evidence during the trial.
2. The petitioner will not pressurize/intimidate the prosecution witness(s).
3. The petitioner will appear before the trial Court on the date fixed, unless personal presence is exempted.
4. The petitioner shall not commit an offence similar to the offence of which he is an accused, or for commission of which he is suspected.
5. The petitioner shall not directly or indirectly make any inducement, threat or promise to any person acquainted with the facts of the case so as to dissuade him/her from disclosing such facts to the Court or to any police officer or tamper with the evidence.

In case of breach of any of the above conditions, the prosecution shall be at liberty to move an application for cancellation of bail before this Court.

However, nothing stated above shall be construed as an expression of opinion on the merits of the case and the trial would proceed independently of the observations made in the present case which are only for the purpose of adjudicating the present bail application.
