STATE OF PUNJAB AND OTHERS

....Respondents

CORAM: HON'BLE MR. JUSTICE VINOD S. BHARDWAJ

Present: Mr. Kushagra Beniwal, Advocate for the petitioners.

Mr. Karanbir Singh, AAG, Punjab.

Mr. Tanvir Singh Grewal, Advocate for respondents No.2 and 3.

VINOD S. BHARDWAJ. J.(Oral)

1. By means of the instant petition, the jurisdiction of this Court under Section 482 Cr.P.C. has been invoked for seeking quashing of complaint No. 91 dated 23.12.2016 (Annexure P-1) under Sections 323, 506, 148, 149, 120-B of the Indian Penal Code, titled as “Harpreet Singh @ Happy Vs. Mahant Hakam Singh and others.” And summoning order dated 16.08.2018 (Annexure P-2) and all other consequential proceedings arising therefrom, on the basis of compromise deed dated 14.05.2021 (Annexure P-6) entered between the parties.

2. The parties were directed to appear before the learned trial Court/Illaq Magistrate vide order dated 11.03.2022 of this Court, to get their statements recorded regarding the compromise arrived at between the parties and a report in this regard was called for.

3. Pursuant to the said order, report has been received from the Additional District & Sessions Judge, Sangrur vide Memo No.99 dated 30.03.2022. The relevant extract of the report is reproduced as under:-

“i) 8 accused namely Hakam Sing, Achhra Singh (since deceased), Jangir Singh, Kaka Singh, Maninder Singh, Harjinder Singh, Kuldeep Singh and Hardeep Singh have been arrayed as accused in the complaint case..

ii) None of the accused is declared as a proclaimed offender in this case.

iii) The case is at the stage of leading of evidence by the complainant and statement of one witness i.e. complainant Harpreet Singh @ Happy has been partly recorded.

(iv) From the statements of parties recorded in this case, it is clear that compromise arrived at between them is genuine, voluntary and without any coercion or undue influence.”

4. Learned State counsel does not dispute the factum of the compromise amongst the parties and does not have any serious objection to the resolution of the dispute amongst the parties.

5. Mr. Tanvir Singh Grewal, Advocate, appears on behalf of respondents No. 2 and 3 and reiterates the settlement and his concurrence to the complaint and all the other consequential proceeding being quashed.

6. The Full Bench of this Court in the matter of “Kulwinder Singh and others versus State of Punjab and another” reported as (Punjab and Haryana High Court) : 2007 (3) RCR (Criminal) 1052 has observed as under:

'(28) To conclude, it can safely be said that there can never be any hard and fast category which can be prescribed to enable the Court to exercise its power under Section 482 of the Cr.P.C. The only principle that can be laid down is the one which has been incorporated in the Section itself, i.e., "to prevent abuse of the process of any Court" or "to secure the ends of justice".

“The finest hour of justice arrives propitiously when parties, despite falling apart, bury the hatchet and weave a sense of fellowship of reunion.”

(30) The power to do complete justice is the very essence of every judicial justice dispensation system. It cannot be diluted by distorted perceptions and is not a slave to anything, except to the caution and circumspection, the standards of which the Court sets before it, in exercise of such plenary and unfettered power inherently vested in it while donning the cloak of compassion to achieve the ends of justice.

(31) No embargo, be in the shape of Section 320(9) of the Cr.P.C., or any other such curtailment, can whittle down the power under Section 482 of the Cr.P.C.

(32) The compromise, in a modern society, is the sine qua non of harmony and orderly behaviour. It is the soul of justice and if the power under Section 482 of the Cr.P.C. is used to enhance such a compromise which, in turn, enhances the social amity and reduces friction, then it truly is "finest hour of justice". Disputes which have their genesis in a matrimonial discord, landlord-tenant matters, commercial transactions and other such matters can safely be dealt with by the Court by exercising its powers under Section 482 of the Cr.P.C. in the event of a compromise, but this is not to say that the power is limited to such cases. There can never be any such rigid rule to prescribe the exercise of such power, especially in the absence of any premonitions to forecast and predict eventualities which the cause of justice may throw up during the course of a litigation.

(33) The only inevitable conclusion from the above discussion is that there is no statutory bar under the Cr.P.C. which can affect the inherent power of this Court under Section 482. Further, the same cannot be limited to matrimonial cases alone and the Court has the wide power to quash the proceedings even in non-compoundable offences notwithstanding the bar under Section 320 of the Cr.P.C., in order to prevent the abuse of law and to secure the ends of justice.

(34) The power under Section 482 of the Cr.P.C. is to be exercised Ex-Debitia Justitia to prevent an abuse of process of Court. There can neither be an exhaustive list nor the defined para-meters to enable a High Court to invoke or exercise its inherent powers. It will always depend upon the facts and circumstances of each case. The power under Section 482 of the Cr.P.C. has no limits. However, the High Court will exercise it sparingly and with utmost care and caution. The exercise of power has to be with circumspection and restraint. The Court is a vital and an extra-ordinary effective instrument to maintain and control social order. The Courts play role of paramount importance in achieving peace, harmony and ever-lasting congeniality in society. Resolution of a dispute by way of a compromise between two warring groups, therefore, should attract the immediate and prompt attention of a Court which should endeavour to give full effect to the same unless such compromise is abhorrent to lawful composition of the society or would promote savagery.

7. The legal principles as laid down for quashing of the judgment were also approved by the Hon'ble Supreme Court in the matter of 'Gian Singh Versus State of Punjab and another,(2012)10 SCC303'. Still further, the broad principles for exercising the powers under Section 482 were summarized by the Hon'ble Supreme Court in the matter of 'Parbatbhai Aahir @ Parbatbhai Bhimsinhbhai Karmur and others versus State of Gujarat and another" (2017) 9 SCC 641'.

8. It is evident that in view of the amicable resolution of the issues amongst the parties, no useful purpose would be served by continuation of the proceedings. The furtherance of the proceedings is likely to be a waste of judicial time and there appears to be no chances of conviction.

9. The Hon'ble Supreme Court has held in the matter of 'Ramgopal And Another Vs State of Madhya Pradesh, 2021 SCC Online SC 834', that the matters which can be categorized as personal in nature or in the matter in which the nature of injuries do not exhibit mental depravity or commission of an offence of such a serious nature that quashing of which would override public interest, the Court can quash the FIR in view of the settlement arrived at amongst the parties. The observation of the Hon'ble Supreme Court is extracted as under:-

19. We thus sum-up and hold that as opposed to Section 320 Cr.P.C. where the Court is squarely guided by the compromise between the parties in respect of offences 'compoundable' within the statutory framework, the extraordinary power enjoined upon a High Court under Section 482 Cr.P.C. or vested in this Court under Article 142 of the Constitution, can be invoked beyond the metes and bounds of Section 320 Cr.P.C. Nonetheless, we reiterate that such powers of wide amplitude ought to be exercised carefully in the context of quashing criminal proceedings, bearing in mind: (i) Nature and effect of the offence on the conscious of the society; (ii) Seriousness of the injury, if any; (iii) Voluntary nature of compromise between the accused and the victim; & (iv) Conduct of the accused persons, prior to and after the occurrence of the purported offence and/or other relevant considerations.

10. The following relevant factors emerge from perusal of the case as well as the subsequent developments supplementing a case for invocation of the powers under Section 482 Cr.P.C.:-

- i) A persual of the case shows that a dispute in question had occurred during a religious congregation in a village ceremony leading to both the parties sustaining injuries.
- ii) Even though it is alleged that a shot was fired, however, it is not disputed that no person was injured in any fired gun shot.
- iii) That the parties belong to the same village and continuation of the proceedings is likely to spoil the harmony and peaceful atmosphere of the village community.
- iv) The complaint in question was registered in the year 2016 and proceedings have continued for more than 06 years.
- v) The case is still at initial stage and 04 witnesses still remain to be examined.
- vi) It is a case of version and cross-version and both the parties have been pursuing a case against each other for commission of the offences which shows that incident in question was not pre-mediated. The said offences were committed at the spur of the moment.

- vii) The parties have mutually decided to bury their differences and peacefully co-exist by giving a quietus to the said dispute.
- viii) The offence in question cannot be said to be heinous or as an offence that would be shocking to the conscience of the society or public at large. It can also not be termed as one shocking to the conscience of the Court;
- ix) Continuation of the proceedings and forcing the parties to undergo rigours of criminal proceedings is not likely to subserve any large public interest;
- x) The proceedings are likely to end in futility for want of parties to support the case of the prosecution;
- xi) No larger public purpose would be served by continuation of the proceedings;
- xii) Parties do not suffer any criminal antecedents and have not indulged in any such or similar case during the pendency of the case or after registration of the complaint.
- xiii) The complainant is not likely to support the case of the prosecution. Continuation of the proceedings is likely to be a waste of judicial time. The object of law is well served when the parties resolve their differences and choose to peacefully co-exist and live in harmony.

11. In view of the report of the Additional District & Sessions Judge, Sangrur and the principles laid down by the Apex Court in Gian Singh Vs. State of Punjab and others (2012) 10 SCC 303, as well as Ramgopal And Another Vs State of Madhya Pradesh 2021 SCC Online SC 834 and also by the Full Bench of this Court in Kulwinder Singh and others Vs. State of Punjab and another, 2007(3) RCR (Criminal) 1052, the instant petition is allowed. The aforesaid complaint No. 91 dated 23.12.2016 (Annexure P-1) under Sections 323, 506, 148, 149, 120-B of the IPC, titled as “Harpreet Singh @ Happy Vs. Mahant Hakam Singh and other.” and summoning order dated 16.08.2018 (Annexure P-2) and all other consequential proceedings arising therefrom are hereby quashed, qua the petitioners in view of compromise deed dated 14.05.2021 (Annexure P-6). However, the same would be subject to payment of cost of Rs.5,000/- each to be deposited by the petitioners with the “Punjab and Haryana High Court Lawyers Welfare Fund”, Chandigarh within one month from receipt of certified copy of this order.

Petition is allowed.
