CRM-M-29636-2021 (O&M)
Date of decision: 31.08.2022

Amarjeet Singh Hanjra and another ...Petitioners

Versus

State of Punjab and another ...Respondents

CORAM: HON'BLE MR. JUSTICE HARNARESH SINGH GILL

Present: Mr. Pratham Sethi, Advocate for the petitioners.

Ms. Monika Jalota, Sr. DAG Punjab.

Mr. S.S. Momi, Advocate for respondent No. 2.

HARNARESH SINGH GILL, J. (ORAL)

The petitioners have filed present petition under Section 482 Cr.P.C. for quashing of FIR No.187 dated 02.11.2017 registered under Section 420 IPC at Police Station Sadar, District Sri Muktsar Sahib and all subsequent proceedings arising therefrom on the basis of compromise dated 03.03.2021 (Annexure P-8).

Learned counsel for the petitioners submits that the petitioner Nos. 1 and 2 are the brother-in-law and mother-in-law of complainant-respondent No.2; that the matter has been compromised between the parties.; that the memorandum of understanding was executed between the parties on 31.01.2021 and that thereafter, complainant-respondent No.2 (Karpreet Kaur Warring) has also executed the affidavit dated 03.03.2021 (Annexure P-8).

Learned counsel for respondent No.2 does dispute the aforesaid facts.

Learned counsel for the petitioners and respondent No. 2 submit that on their joint request, the learned trial Court/Illaq Magistrate was directed to record the statements of the parties through video conferencing by a Coordinate Bench vide order dated 26.08.2021 and the statements have been recorded. In another petition CRM-M-41995-2021 preferred by Harpreet Singh (husband of respondent No.2-Karpreet Kaur Warring), for quashing of the FIR on the basis of the compromise effected between them, respondent No.2 has suffered a statement that with the intervention of the common friends and respectable persons of the society, she has compromised the matter with Harpreet Singh (Ex. husband), Amarjeet Singh Hanjra (Jeth) and Charanjeet Kaur (mother-in-law) before the learned Additional Chief Judicial Magistrate, Sri Muktsar Sahib, through video conferencing.

As per the report dated 21.10.2021 of the Additional Chief Judicial Magistrate, Sri Muktsar Sahib, received in CRM-M-41995-2021, the compromise arrived at between the parties is with free will and without any pressure or coercion.

The Hon'ble Full Bench of this Court in case Kulwinder Singh vs. State of Punjab and another, 2007(3) RCR (Criminal) 1052 and Hon'ble Division Bench of this Court in case Sube Singh and another vs. State of Haryana and another, 2013(4) RCR (Criminal) 102 observed that compounding of offence can be allowed even after conviction, during proceedings of the appeal against conviction pending in Sessions Court and in case of involving non-compoundable offence.

The Hon'ble Apex Court in the case of Gian Singh Versus State of Punjab and another. 2012(4) RCR (Criminal) 543 has held as under:-

“57. The position that emerges from the above discussion can be summarised thus: the power of the High Court in quashing a criminal proceeding or FIR or complaint in exercise of its inherent jurisdiction is distinct and different from the power given to a criminal court for compounding the offences under Section 320 of the Code. Inherent power is of wide plenitude with no statutory limitation but it has to be exercised in accord with the guideline engrafted in such power viz; (i) to secure the ends of justice or (ii) to prevent abuse of the process of any Court. In what cases power to quash the criminal proceeding or complaint or F.I.R. may be exercised where the offender and victim have settled their dispute would depend on the facts and circumstances of each case and no category can be prescribed. However, before exercise of such power, the High Court must have due regard to the nature and gravity of the crime. Heinous and serious offences of mental depravity or offences like murder, rape, dacoity, etc. cannot be fittingly quashed even though the victim or victim's family and the offender have settled the dispute. Such offences are not private in nature and have serious impact on society. Similarly, any compromise between the victim and offender in relation to the offences under special statutes like Prevention of Corruption Act or the offences committed by public servants while working in that capacity etc; cannot provide for any basis for quashing criminal proceedings involving such offences. But the criminal cases having overwhelmingly and predominatingly civil flavour stand on different footing for the purposes of quashing, particularly the offences arising from commercial, financial, mercantile, civil, partnership or such like transactions or the offences arising out of matrimony relating to dowry etc. or the family disputes where the wrong is basically private or personnel in nature and the parties have resolved their entire dispute In this category of cases, High Court may quash criminal proceedings if in its view, because of the compromise between the offender and victim, the possibility of conviction is remote and bleak and continuation of criminal case would put accused to great oppression and prejudice and extreme injustice would be caused to him by not quashing the criminal case despite full and complete settlement and compromise with the victim. In other words, the High Court must consider whether it would be unfair or contrary to the interest of justice to continue with the criminal proceeding or continuation of the criminal proceeding would tantamount to abuse of process of law despite settlement and compromise between the victim and wrongdoer and whether to secure the ends of justice, it is appropriate that criminal case is put to an end and if the answer to the above question(s) is in affirmative, the High Court shall be well within its jurisdiction to quash the criminal proceeding.”

The same view has been reiterated by Hon'ble the Apex Court in case Narinder Singh and others Vs. State of Punjab and another, 2014(2) RCR (Criminal) 482.

Since the parties have arrived at a compromise and have decided to live in peace, no useful purpose would be served in allowing the criminal proceedings to continue.

Accordingly, the petition is allowed. FIR No.187 dated 02.11.2017 registered under Section 420 IPC at Police Station Sadar, District Sri Muktsar Sahib and all subsequent proceedings arising therefrom, are hereby quashed qua the petitioners, on the basis of compromise dated 03.03.2021 (Annexure P-8), subject to depositing the costs of Rs.25,000/- by the petitioners with the Poor Patients' Welfare Fund of the Postgraduate Institute of Medical Education and Research (PGIMER), Chandigarh.

Needless to say that the parties shall remain bound by the terms of compromise and their statements made in the Court below.
