Learned counsel for the petitioner very fairly submits that as the complainant is yet to be examined, he does not press this petition. The learned counsel submits that direction be issued to the trial court to examine the complainant as the next witness as expeditiously as possible.

The State counsel raises no objection for the said prayer.

Keeping in view the above, though the present petition is not being pressed by the learned counsel for the petitioner for the grant of bail but in view the request of the petitioner that the complainant be examined as expeditiously as possible, a direction is issued to the trial court that the complainant be examined as next witness as expeditiously as possible without any further delay.
