10. Being aggrieved by the judgment of the trial Court in C.C.No.19 of 2005, the following Criminal Appeals are filed by the appellants.

A1/S.Rajaram has preferred Crl.A.No.486 of 2013, A2/Alban Bright preferred Crl.A.No.500 of 2013 and A3/N.Bharath has preferred Crl.A.No.510 of 2013.

Crl.A.Nos.486, 500 & 510 of 2013

11. Crl.A.No.486 of 2013:-

The Learned Counsel for the appellant/1st accused S.Rajaram a public servant submitted that, the prosecution is liable to be set aside since the sanction upon which the Court has taken cognizance is non est in law submitting that, the request of the Investigating Agency namely C.B.I to grant sanction was declined by the Sanctioning Authority. Drawing the attention of this Court to Ex.C.1 to Ex.C.7 which are the communications between C.B.I and the Bank higher Officials regarding sanction to prosecute the Learned Counsel submitted that the sanctioning authority after perusing the records has taken a conscious decision and declined to accord sanction. While so, without any new facts and documents, C.B.I has forwarded a draft sanction order and pressurised the sanctioning authority P.W.1 to give order for prosecution which is marked as Ex.P.1. It is a clear case of sanction issued without application of mind at the dictation of the prosecuting agency and therefore, conviction has to be set aside for want of proper sanction. To buttress his submission, the Learned Counsel rely upon the following judgments:-

(i). M.S.Vijayakumar -vs- The Chairman and Managing Director, Indian Overseas Bank and others reported in 2010 SCC Online

(iii). Vijay Rajamohan -vs- State Represented by the Inspector of Police, CBI, ACB, Chennai reported in 2022 SCC Online SC 1377.

12. Further, the Learned Counsel for the appellant/A1 submitted that the grant of sanction based on the legal opinion and the valuation certificate cannot be termed as misconduct or abuse of official power. It is neither wilful negligence. As a Chief Manager of the branch, A1 had discharged his duty and sanctioned the loan after being satisfied with the report given by the field officer and opinion of experts. Therefore, his action will not fall within the definition of any of the offences for which he was tried and convicted. In support of this preposition, the Learned Counsel for the appellant rely upon the following judgment of the Hon'ble Supreme Court in Subbammal alias Rajammal and others -vs-. The President, The Tenkasi Co-operative Urban Bank, Ltd reported in 1976 SCC Online Mad 122.

Crl.A.Nos.486, 500 & 510 of 2013

13. Crl.A.No. 510 of 2013:-

WEB COPY

The Learned Counsel for the 3rd accused/appellant in Crl.A.No.510 of 2013 submitted that, he is a valuer for the bank as per his duty, he has given the valuation certificate after inspecting the property identified by the Bank Manager and the borrower. It is not his duty to look into the authenticity of the title. He, on inspection of the field and the property identified by the borrower and the bank had assessed the value based on his judgment and he had no criminal intention of any kind to cheat the bank. There is no contra valuation for the property for which he has given valuation certificate. The valuer engaged by the prosecution had not valued the property but had given an evasive report that he was not able to identify the property. This cannot be an incriminating materials against the valuer who had inspected the property to convict him for the offence of conspiracy to cheat or for any other offences. In support of his argument, he rely upon the judgment of the Hon'ble Supreme Court in Central Bureau of Investigation, Hyderabad -vs- K.Narayana Rao reported in (2012) 9 SCC 512.

Crl.A.Nos.486, 500 & 510 of 2013

14. Crl.A.No. 500 of 2013:-

The Learned Counsel for the 2nd accused/appellant in Crl.A.No.500 of 2013 M/s.Bright & Company submitted that, the trial Court has ignored to consider the evidence of P.W.1, P.W.2, P.W.3 and P.W.14 in entirety and at the same time had believed the testimony of P.W.5, P.W.8 and P.W.9 who are interested witnesses. The property for collateral security was arranged by Balraj (deceased) and from the prosecution witness P.W.10 Mary Christiana, it is elicited that, she sold the property to Balraj (deceased) and gave the original document to him. While Balraj stand as guarantor, there is no reason to disbelieve his credential since the title document and the revenue documents like patta, Chitta and Encumbrance certificate apparently showed Ms.Mary Christiana is the owner of the property which was given as collateral security. The Panel Advocate has also given the opinion to that effect. Therefore, the conviction is liable to be set aside.

15. The Learned Special Public Prosecutor for the respondent/C.B.I submitted that the sanction order is valid and there is no infirmity in it. P.W.1 had deposed that, on application of his mind, he had granted sanction after perusing the documents and in consultation with CVC. There is no bar for the sanctioning authority to have a consultation with CVC. Even, if there is any defect in the sanctioning order, it cannot be a reason to acquit the bank Manager, who had knowingly accepted false property documents and valuation certificate to advance credit facility to M/s.Bright and Company. Without connivance of the Branch Manager, Rajaram, loan to a tune of Rs.15 lakhs might have not been sanctioned. Similarly, A3/N.Bharath, the Valuer had dishonestly and fraudulently submitted his valuation certificate dated 12.04.2002, estimating the value of non-existing plot as Rs.37.06 lakhs. A2/ Alban Bright had fraudulently created documents in respect of 16 cents of land bearing S.No.37/2 at No.103, 104, Valasaravakkam Village, in the name of Ms.Mary Christiana. The said property is a non-existing property and same is proved by examining the VAO of Valasaravakkam and Sub-Registrar, Virugambakkam. That apart, the field verification was done with Valuer Vijayaraghavan and Bank officials, who had categorically stated that, the property is not identifiable. Contrarily, A1 had recorded that, he inspected the field on 19.04.2002 and the property given as collateral security is worthy of be mortgage.

Crl.A.Nos.486, 500 & 510 of 2013

16. The report of the valuer P.W.7 clearly states that, the property identified by A2 on measurement and on comparison with the document given by A2 to the Bank, it is found that the property mentioned in the document is agricultural land, whereas, the property on the site was a housing site and therefore, the value could not be assessed. Therefore, the Special Public Prosecutor submitted that, the trial Court had after thorough examination of documents had rightly convicted the appellant.

17. Heard the Learned Counsel for the Appellant and the Learned Special Public Prosecutor for the respondent/C.B.I. Records perused.

18. Point for consideration:-

Whether the first accused namely S.Rajaram, Chief Manager of Indian Overseas Bank was accorded sanction to prosecute without application of mind for any extraneous reasons and whether the evidence placed by the prosecution before the Court inadequate to held the accused guilty of the charges?

19. Thiru.J.K.Gupta (P.W.1), General Manager of IOB is the authority who has accorded the sanction to prosecute Mr.Rajaram (A1) is a public servant viz., Chief Manager of IOB. The competency of P.W.1 to grant sanction not disputed. His claim that he accorded sanction after perusing the records and after applying the mind is disputed for following reasons:-

(i). Ex.P.1, Sanction order does not disclose the earlier proceedings (Ex.C.4) of P.W.1 refusing to accord sanction. No reason assigned for receiving the earlier rejection order.

(ii). In the Chief examination P.W.1 admits that the Vigilance Department in the Bank forwarded his observation to Chief Vigilance Commissioner (CVC). In response, CVC replied that material evidence available with CBI to prosecute Rajaram (A1). What are those material evidence, why they were not furnished earlier and whether was furnished atleast subsequently for P.W.1 to review his earlier observation not found in any of the documents placed for the Court.

(iii). P.W.1 admits after his refusal to grant sanction vide proceedings dated 27.10.2004 with reasoning, he received letter from the Vigilance Department to accord sanction enclosing Draft Sanction order Ex.C.6.

WEB COPY

20. The first draft sanction order Ex.C.3 and the second draft sanction order are identical. To reverse or reconsider the observation made in Ex.C.4, concluding permission to prosecute S.Rajaram and N.R.Chandrasekar not warranted. The CBI ought to have produced additional material evidence and same should have been considered by P.W.1 before according sanction. In the absence of any such material evidence, it has to be presumed, the sanction order lack application of mind.

21. No fresh material placed by CBI before P.W.1 while reiterating their request to accord sanction. No reason found in Ex.P.1, why the earlier order of rejection reconsidered.

“34. It is seen that it is because of the joint sitting of the CBI, CVC along with the Indian Overseas Bank (Sanctioning Authority), the Sanctioning Authority has changed its view. It is not the case of the bank that these materials which are insisted by either the CBI or CVC were not available on earlier two occasions when the order declining sanction of prosecution was passed. Therefore, it is manifestly clear that the change in mind on the part of the Sanctioning Authority has occurred only at the instance and instigation of the CBI and CVC. In the light of the well settled legal principle that the Sanctioning Authority has to independently decide before granting sanction on the materials available, we have no hesitation to hold on the facts and circumstances of the present case that the change of mind on the part of the Sanctioning Authority is certainly not independent. Moreover, it is astonishing to note that in the impugned sanction orders passed by the competent authority there is not even a reference about the earlier order declining to grant sanction and there is absolutely nothing to show that the impugned order has been passed based on any new materials, which were brought to the notice of the authority competent.”

(ii). State of Himachal Pradesh -vs- Nishant Sareen reported in (2010) 14 SCC 527, wherein it has held as below:-

“12. It is true that the Government in the matter of grant or refusal to grant sanction exercises statutory power and that would not mean that power once exercised cannot be exercised again or at a subsequent stage in the absence of express power of review in no circumstance whatsoever. The power of review, however, is not unbridled or unrestricted. It seems to us a sound principle to follow that once the statutory power under Section 19 of the 1988 Act or Section 197 of the Code has been exercised by the Government or the competent authority, as the case may be, it is not permissible for the sanctioning authority to review or reconsider the matter on the same materials again. It is so because unrestricted power of review may not bring finality to such exercise and on change of the Government or change of the person authorised to exercise power of sanction, the matter concerning sanction may be reopened by such authority for the reasons best known to it and a different order may be passed. The opinion on the same materials, thus, may keep on changing and there may not be any end to such statutory exercise.

13. In our opinion, a change of opinion per se on the same materials cannot be a ground for reviewing or reconsidering the earlier order refusing to grant sanction. However, in a case where fresh materials have been collected by the investigating agency subsequent to the earlier order and placed before the sanctioning authority and on that basis, the matter is reconsidered by the sanctioning authority and in light of the fresh materials an opinion is formed that sanction to prosecute the public servant may be granted, there may not be any impediment to adopt such a course.”

(iii). Vijay Rajamohan -vs- State Represented by the Inspector of Police, CBI, ACB, Chennai reported in 2022 SCC Online SC 1377, wherein, it has held as below:-

“18.13. The appropriate Government or the competent authority is obligated, under the 2018 Amendment to the PC Act, to endeavour to convey the decision on the proposal for sanction within three months with an extended period of one more month when legal consultation is required. For this purpose, guidelines may be prescribed. CVC has, in fact, issued necessary guidelines in furtherance of this duty. [Proviso to Section 19(1) of the PC Act].

19. It is evident from the above referred formulation that the position of law and the legal regime obtained by virtue of the five legislations on the subject of corruption, operates as integrated scheme. The five legislations being the CrPC, the DSPE Act, the PC Act, the CVC Act, and the Lokpal Act, must be read together to enable the authorities to subserve the common purpose and objectives underlying these legislations. The Central Vigilance Commission constituted under the CVC Act is specifically entrusted with the duty and function of providing expert advice on the subject. It may be necessary for the appointing authority to call for and seek the opinion of CVC before it takes any decision on the request for sanction for prosecution. The statutory scheme under which the appointing authority could call for, seek and consider the advice of CVC can neither be termed as acting under dictation nor a factor which could be referred to as an irrelevant consideration. The opinion of CVC is only advisory. It is nevertheless a valuable input in the decision-making process of the appointing authority. The final decision of the appointing authority must be of its own by application of independent mind. The issue is, therefore, answered by holding that there is no illegality in the action of the appointing authority, the DoPT, if it calls for, refers, and considers the opinion of the Central Vigilance Commission before it takes its final decision on the request for sanction for prosecuting a public servant.”

22. The misappropriation by fraudulent means induced by

conspiracy had come to light when P.W.8 C.R.Venkateswaran conducted inspection of IOB, Mount Road Branch. During the course of their inspection irregularities were noticed in respect of five cases for which loan was sanctioned by Rajaram, Chief Manager were not based on true and original documents but based on fake documents and false valuation certificate. The inspection of property by P.W.8 along with valuer and other bank staff brought to light that the property described in the document deposited as collateral security does not exist or could not be identified. The current account of M/s.Bright and Company was authorised by A1 by showing them as trader in home appliance and Entertainment electronics. A1 has sanctioned Rs.15 lakhs as cash credit limit to M/s.Bright and Company. The loan was sanctioned against the primary security of stock and collateral security of property at Nos.103, 104 Viyasar Street, Kamatchi Nagar, Valasaravakkam, Chennai. Though the borrower claimed that this property belongs to Shri.Mary Christiana and annexed the valuation certificate given by A4 Bharath that the property worth Rs.37 lakhs, later, it has been proved that the property does not belong to Shri.Mary Christiana. The said Mari Christiana examined as P.W.10 had categorically deposed that, she is not owner of the said property at the time of creating mortgage. She has sold away the property to the deceased accused Balraj

23. From the evidence of Shri.Mary Christiana and evidence of P.W.5 P.R.Shesadri reveal that, Plot Nos.103, 104 are in existence at Kamatchi Nagar. Therefore, it may not be correct to say there is no property in existence but property document produced before the bank may not be a genuine document. Therefore, there is every reason to believe the defence taken by A1 and A3, the valuer that based on the legal opinion and on inspection of the field, loan has been sanctioned to A2 Alban Bright. However, the borrower who had mislead the bank by showing the document in the name of his relative but property concern been already alienated, apart from the fake revenue document it indicate that, the borrower Alban Bright, Proprietor of M/s.Bright and Company had induced the bank to advance cash credit loan of Rs.15 lakhs while producing false document. Whether it was pursuant to the conspiracy with other accused person could not be ascertained from the evidence of prosecution witnesses. Thus, the charge for cheating and fabrication of false document as against A2 is clearly made out.

24. The leaned Counsel for the appellant/A2 submitted that, P.W.6

had deposed that, after doubt raised about the collateral security of a property in the name of Ms.Mary Christiana, the borrower had given another property as additional security which stands in the name of Thiru.Pakiri at Thiruvannamipur and value about Rs.37,29,144/- Therefore, the appellant had no intention to cheat the bank. However, this submissions does not carry any merit because the document filed initially to induce the Bank to avail loan proved to be a false document and at the time of inspection, loan was under default.

25. From the materials placed, it is clearly established that, the sanction to prosecute A-1 accorded by P.W-1 not on his own application of mind. The reconsideration of his earlier rejection order not on the basis of new facts brought to his notice. That apart, the evidence relied by the prosecution does not prove beyond any doubt that the loan was sanctioned by A-1 with knowledge that the documents related to collateral security property are forged. Both the Manager and the valuer (A-1 and A-4) the appellants herein had acted based on the opinion given by the Panel Lawyer regarding the title of the property. Their plea that, they acted bonafidely and had no intention to cheat the bank or had knowledge about the fake documents produced by the other accused (A-2 and the deceased accused Balraj) who are the beneficiary of this

27. As far as, the Criminal Appeal No.500 of 2013 filed by A2/Alban Bright is partly allowed. While there is no evidence to prove for conspiracy between this accused with A-1 and A-4, the charge of conspiracy against the accused is held to be not proved.
