Crl.O.P.No.8553 of 2023

A.D.JAGADISH CHANDIRA, J.

The petitioner, who apprehends arrest at the hands of the respondent police for the offences punishable under Sections 294(b), 307 & 506(ii) of the IPC r/w 120(B) of IPC, in Crime No.780 of 2021 on the file of the respondent police, seeks anticipatory bail.

2. The case of the prosecution is that on 04.07.2021 at about 02.00hrs, the defacto complainant along with others went to meet his friend to ask money for his hospital expenses. Thereafter, altogether went to Chithammanur Lake Area and consumed alcohol. In the meanwhile, a wordy quarrel arose between them. Due to the loan dispute, the petitioner's husband, along with others, had abused the defacto complainant with filthy language and assaulted him with bare hands causing severe injuries and threatened the defacto complainant with dire consequences. Hence the complaint.

3. The learned counsel for the petitioner would submit that the petitioner is an innocent person and she has not committed any offence as alleged by the prosecution. He would further submit that the petitioner's husband had attacked the defacto complainant, thereby, causing severe injuries. The name of the petitioner was not found in the FIR and she was unnecessarily roped into this case. He would further submit that the injured has been discharged from the hospital. Hence, he prays for the grant of anticipatory bail to the petitioner.

4. The learned Government Advocate (Criminal Side) for the respondent would submit that due to loan dispute, the petitioner's husband picked up a wordy quarrel with the defacto complainant and abused him with filthy language and assaulted him with bare hands. Hence, he vehemently opposed to grant anticipatory bail to the petitioner.

5. Heard both sides and perused the materials available on record.

6. Considering the above facts and circumstances of the case and also the submissions made on both sides, this Court is inclined to grant anticipatory bail to the petitioner with certain conditions.
