K.GOVINDARAJAN THILAKAVADI, J.,

The petitioner, who apprehends arrest for the alleged offences under sections 294(b), 323, 427, 448, 506(i) IPC and Section 4 of Tamilnadu Prohibition of Women Harassment Act, in Crime No.98 of 2023 on the file of the respondent police, seeks anticipatory bail.

2. The case of the prosecution is that on account of previous enmity between the petitioner and the defacto complainant, who are relatives, regarding property dispute and running of church in the said property, the petitioner along with other accused trespassed into the house of the defacto complainant, assaulted him and also abused him in a filthy language. Hence the case.

3. Learned counsel appearing for the petitioner submitted that the petitioner is innocent and the complaint has been given as a counter blast. He also submitted that already a civil suit is pending between the petitioner and the defacto complainant and she is ready to abide by any stringent conditions that may be imposed by this Court. Hence, he prayed for grant of anticipatory bail to the petitioner.

4. Thee learned Additional Public Prosecutor appearing for the respondent police submitted that on account of property dispute between both sides, the petitioner along with other accused, trespassed in to the house of the defacto complainant and attacked him. He further submitted that a civil suit is also pending between both sides.

5. Heard the learned counsel for the petitioner and the learned Addl. Public Prosecutor for the respondent Police and perused the materials available on record.

6. Considering the above facts and circumstances of the case, the submissions made by the learned counsel on either side and also considering the fact that the dispute is between relatives and already a civil suit is pending between both sides, this Court is inclined to grant anticipatory bail to the petitioner with certain conditions.
