Crl.O.P.No.11293 of 2023

V.LAKSHMINARAYANAN. J.,

The petitioners, who apprehend arrest for the alleged offences under Sections 294 (b), 324, 427 and 506 (2) of IPC in Cr.No.222 of 2022 on the file of the respondent police, seek anticipatory bail.

2. The case of the prosecution is that on 07.10.2022, the petitioners visited the defacto complainant's house and attacked the defacto complainant and his wife with stick and completely destroyed the house being constructed by the defacto complainant under the Housing Scheme of Tamil Nadu Government. The petitioners further threatened the defacto complainant's family with dire consequences of death and abused them with filthy language to abandon the said place of house. Hence, the case.

3.The learned counsel appearing for the petitioners submits that the petitioners are innocent, hailing from a very respectable family, law abiding citizens and have not committed any offence as alleged by the prosecution. He would further submit that they have been falsely implicated in this case and however, they are ready to furnish substantial sureties and any conditions to be imposed by this Court for grant of anticipatory bail. Hence, the learned counsel prays to grant anticipatory bail to the petitioners.

4.The learned Government Advocate (Crl. Side) submits that the petitioners attacked the defacto complainant and his wife with stick; and destroyed the house being constructed by the defacto complainant; and threatened the defacto complainant's family with dire consequences of death and abused them with filthy language. Hence, he opposed for granting anticipatory bail to the petitioners.

5. Considering the facts and circumstances of the case and the submission made by the learned counsel for the petitioner, this Court is inclined to grant anticipatory bail to the petitioners with certain conditions.
