In a road transport accident on 15.10.2012, a Tanker lorry bearing Regn. No.AP-03-X-6566, driven by its driver in a rash and negligent manner, got capsized and the lorry got burst, thereby caused fire accident, wherein 22 persons were injured and 2 persons were dead. Injured claimants/legal representatives of the deceased, filed individual claim petitions, numbering 24, before the Motor Accident Claims Tribunal [V Court of Small Causes], Chennai. All the 24 cases were tried jointly and by a common judgment dated 11.11.2019, the claims tribunal held that the driver of the Tanker Lorry was negligent in causing the accident and accordingly, fastened liability on the insurer of the Tanker Lorry viz., the Oriental Insurance Company, the 2nd respondent herein and awarded compensation in each claim petitions.

2. Claim petitioner in MCOP No.3849 of 2013, is the appellant herein seeking enhancement of compensation for the burn injuries sustained in both legs and thigh, in the above said accident.

4. The factum of the accident, the manner of the accident and the negligence on the part of the driver of the offending vehicle, are not disputed. Hence, the findings of the claims tribunal, are confirmed.

5. The claim petitioner, who had suffered injury in the road transport accident on 15.10.2012, has filed the above MCOP and the claims tribunal has awarded a sum of Rs.2,75,600/- with interest at the rate of 7.5% per annum from the date of numbering of claim petition till the date of realization with costs.

6. On the point of quantum of compensation, heard the learned counsel for the appellant/claim petitioner and the learned counsel appearing on behalf of the 2nd respondent/Insurance Company and perused the materials available on record.

7. On perusal of Ex.P63, copy of the discharge summary issued by Narayana Medical College Hospital, the injured claimant has been admitted in the said hospital on 16.10.2012, underwent surgeries on 16.10.2012, 31.10.2012 and 14.11.2012 and thereafter, was discharged from the hospital on 19.11.2012. Ex.P64 series are the medical prescriptions and Ex.P66 is the photograph of the petitioner. The claims tribunal has fixed the disability at 15% and awarded Rs.45,000/- i.e., Rs.3,000/- per percentage of disability, which appears to be reasonable and the same is confirmed.

8. The claims tribunal has awarded loss of income at the rate of Rs.6,000/-per month for the period of three months only. As stated supra, the claim petitioner has been in the hospital for two months and underwent surgeries and therefore, by fixing the monthly income of the deceased at Rs.8,000/-, I am inclined to enhance the award under the head 'loss of income' for a period of five months is awarded i.e. Rs.8000/- x 5 = Rs.40,000/-, as against Rs.18,000/- awarded by the tribunal. Further, the award of Rs.10,500/- awarded by the tribunal under the head 'attender charges' is enhanced to Rs.15,000/-. Compensation amount under other
