The petitioners, who apprehend arrest at the hands of the respondent police for the offence punishable under Sections 294(b), 324 and 506(ii) of IPC, in Crime Not Known of 2023 @ Crime No.96 of 2023, on the file of the respondent police, seek anticipatory bail.

2. The case of the prosecution is that due to land dispute, a wordy quarrel arose between the petitioners and the defacto complainant, in which, the petitioners abused the defacto complainant in filthy language and assaulted him with wooden log and caused injuries to him. Hence, the complaint.

3. The learned counsel for the petitioners would submit that the petitioners are innocent persons and they have been falsely roped in this case. He would further submit that there had been land dispute between the petitioners and the defacto complainant and in order to wreck vengeance against the petitioners, a false complaint has been given and the injured has been discharged from the hospital. Hence, he prays for grant of anticipatory bail to the petitioner.

4. The learned Government Advocate (Crl. Side) for the respondent police would submit that due to property dispute between the petitioners and the defacto complainant, the accused have abused the defacto complainant in filthy language and assaulted him with wooden logs thereby the defacto complainant sustained injuries. He would further submit that a counter case has also been given by the petitioners against the defacto complainant in Crime No.95 of 2023 and the injured has been discharged from the hospital. Hence, he objected to grant anticipatory bail to the petitioners.

5. Taking into consideration the facts and circumstances and also considering the fact that the injured has been discharged from the hospital, I am inclined to grant anticipatory bail to the petitioners subject to the following conditions:
