2. Heard Mrs.Karthigaipriya, learned counsel for the revision petitioner.

One wonders why the revision at all should be filed since it is the statutory right of a litigant to seek to be represented through a Power of Attorney.

And it is not known how at all it can prejudice the plaintiffs. However, what saves the day for the revision petitioner is that the very principal who had executed the Power of Attorney has now passed away, reducing to the very order now under challenge is not the effective one.

3. In the result, nothing survives in this revision, and accordingly the same is dismissed. No costs. Consequently, connected miscellaneous petition is closed.
