ORDER

(Order of the Court was made by S.S.SUNDAR,J.)

The petitioner, who is the father of the detenu, namely, Arun @ Maadu Arun, aged 23 years, S/o Ashok, has come forward with this petition challenging the detention order passed by the 2nd respondent dated 13.07.2023 slapped on his son, branding him as 'Drug Offender' under the Tamil Nadu Prevention of Dangerous Activities of Bootleggers, Cyber Law Offenders, Drug Offenders, Forest Offenders, Goondas, Immoral Traffic Offenders, Sand Offenders, Sexual Offenders, Slum Grabbers and Video Pirates Act, 1982 (Tamil Nadu Act 14 of 1982).

H.C.P.No.1810 of 2023

2. Heard the learned counsel appearing for the petitioner and the learned Additional Public Prosecutor appearing for the respondents.

3. Though several grounds are raised in the petition, the learned counsel appearing for the petitioner confined his argument to the point that the detaining authority has relied upon the bail order passed in CrI.M.P.No.1414 of 2021 dated 04.06.2021 by the Principal Special Court under EC & NDPS Act, Chennai in respect of the accused in similar case, which is not similar to the case on hand, as the bail was granted to the accused in similar case considering that no bad antecedent was reported against the accused therein. However, in the present case, it is admitted that there is one adverse case against the detenu. Therefore, the detention order is liable to be set aside on the sole ground that the subjective satisfaction of the detaining authority suffers from non-application of mind.

4. This Court perused page-144 of the booklet and is convinced with the statement of the learned counsel for petitioner that the bail was granted to the accused in similar case on the ground that no bad antecedent was reported against the accused therein. However, in the present case, it is admitted that the detenu is alleged to be involved in one adverse case. This Court has held in several cases that the detention order is vitiated if there is no application of mind as to the real ground on which the bail was granted to the accused in similar case. It is also relevant to point out that the Hon'ble Supreme Court in the case of Rekha v. State of Tamil Nadu through Secretary to Government and another, (2011) 5 SCC 244, has held that in case any of the reasons stated in the order of detention is non-existent or a material information is wrongly assumed, that will vitiate the detention order. It is relevant to extract paragraph Nos.10 and 11 of the said judgment of the Hon'ble Supreme Court, as follows:-

“10. In our opinion, if details are given by the respondent authority about the alleged bail orders in similar cases mentioning the date of the orders, the bail application number, whether the bail order was passed in respect of the co-accused in the same case, and whether the case of the co-accused was on the same footing as the case of the petitioner, then, of course, it could be argued that there is likelihood of the accused being released on bail, because it is the normal practice of most courts that if a co-accused has been granted bail and his case is on the same footing as that of the petitioner, then the petitioner is ordinarily granted bail. However, the respondent authority should have given details about the alleged bail order in similar cases, which has not been done in the present case. A mere ipse dixit statement in the grounds of detention cannot sustain the detention order and has to be ignored.

11. In our opinion, the detention order in question only contains ipse dixit regarding the alleged imminent possibility of the accused coming out on bail and there was no reliable material to this effect. Hence, the detention order in question cannot be sustained."

In view of the judgment of the Hon'ble Supreme Court in Rekha's case, this Court finds that the impugned detention order is liable to be quashed.

5. Accordingly, the detention order passed by the 2nd respondent dated 13.07.2023 in BCDFGISSSV No.313/2023 is hereby set aside and the habeas corpus petition is allowed. The detenu viz., Arun @ Maadu Arun,

S/o Ashok, aged 23 years, is directed to be set at liberty forthwith, unless he is required in connection with any other case.
