2. Learned counsel for the petitioner submits that there are encroachments in Kanji bus stand and the same are not being removed. An application is given under the Right to Information Act, 2005, but the information is not yet received.

3. Except the bald allegations in the petition, we do not find any other document to suggest about the encroachments. If the petitioner can lay his hands on authentic documents and/or authentic information, then the petitioner may agitate afresh.

4. In the light of that, the writ petition stands disposed of. There will be no order as to costs.
