However, when the second respondent had inspected the property, they found that there was nobody living in that house and therefore, the notice had been issued seeking disconnection.

“5.I humbly submit that the contractors who are doing the said construction works, requested another 3 to 4 months' time, for the completion of the entire pending works. That apart, I have requested the contractor to get more manpower, thereby to complete the work at the earliest, not exceeding 3 months. For the same the electricity service connection is most necessary. We sincerely pray this Hon'ble Court to record this undertaking and to pass suitable orders.

6.I humbly submit that in the interest of justice, we pray that it is just and necessary to grant 3 months' time from the date of order of this Hon'ble Court for the completion of construction work. If the said time is not granted, we would be put to irreparable loss and hardship and the same cannot be compensated in any manner and whatsoever, per contra allowing this petition does not in any way prejudice the respondents.”

5.In view of the same, let the temporary connection continue for a period of four months from today and thereafter, inspection may be made and bills can be raised against the petitioners herein.

6.No further orders are required.
