2. We have heard the learned counsel appearing for the petitioner and the learned Additional Public Prosecutor appearing for the respondents. We have also perused the records produced by the Detaining Authority.

3.The detention order indicates that the detenu involved in drug offence and his presence is menace of the society. Further, in the ground case, the accused was found in possession of 11 Kgs of ganja and in the adverse case also the possession was within the in between quantity.

4.The learned counsel appearing for the petitioner submitted that while making representation, a specific request was made to furnish Tamil version of all those documents, which are in English. However, Tamil translation was not provided to the detenu and hence, the detenu was not able to make an effective representation. In view of the same, the learned counsel submitted that there is infraction of fundamental rights of the detenu and hence, the detention order suffers from illegality.

5.Though several points were canvassed challenging the detention order, this Court is convinced with a point that the remand order was not provided to the detenu in vernacular language, which prevented him for making effective representation. Thus, it reflects non application of mind on the part of the detaining authority. The impugned detention order is, therefore, liable to be quashed.

6. In the result, the Habeas Corpus Petition is allowed and the order of detention in Detention Order No.47 of 2022 dated 02.06.2022 passed by the second respondent is set aside. The detenu, Arun, aged about 31 years, S/o.Jeyachandran, is directed to be released forthwith unless his detention is required in connection with any other case.
