2. The learned counsel appearing for the revision petitioner would submit that the petitioner herein is aged about 70 years and would further submit that though the instant petition was presented during 2017, the same got numbered only during the year 2022. He would further submit that despite the petitioner being ready with the proof affidavit, the same could not be presented before the Revenue Court, as the Presiding Officer was on medical as well as other leave for the past four years, except some few days.

3. I have heard the learned counsel appearing for the petitioner and perused the materials available on record.

4. It is seen from the typed set of papers that the said petition has been filed during 2017 and on perusal of the notes paper, on many hearing it has been adjourned for enquiry. However, from 03.10.2018 this petition have been posted for evidence and have been adjourned time to time without assigning any reason.

5. The learned counsel for the petitioner would consent that
