anticipatory bail.

2.The case of the prosecution is that due to property dispute, on 18.06.2023, the defacto complainant's husband went to the disputed property, at that time, the petitioners along with other accused abused the defacto complainant's husband in filthy language and also attacked him with aruval and caused injurious to him. Hence, the complaint.

3.The learned counsel for the petitioners submits that the petitioners are innocent and they have not committed any offence as alleged by the prosecution. He further submitted that the second petitioners and the defacto complainant are father-in-law and son-in-law.

4. The learned Government Advocate(Crl.Side) appearing for the respondent submits that no previous case is pending against the petitioners and also submitted that the petitioners and the defacto complainant are close relatives.

5.Considering the facts and the circumstances of this case and also considering the relationship between the parties, this Court is inclined to grant anticipatory bail to the petitioners, however, with stringent conditions.

6.Accordingly, the petitioners are ordered to be released on bail in the event of arrest or their appearance, before the learned Judicial Magistrate, Nanguneri,
