2. The case of the prosecution is that the defacto complainant is the father of the petitioner. Already partition was done among the family members. While so, on 27.03.2023, the defacto complainant cut tender coconut in his share. On came to know that, on 31.05.2023 at about 4.30 p.m., the petitioner herein came and abused the petitioner in filthy language, attacked him with chappel and iron rod, and also threatened with dire consequences.

3. The learned counsel for the petitioner would submit that the petitioner is an innocent and he has not committed any such offence as alleged by the prosecution. Due to civil dispute, a false complaint has been foisted against the petitioner.

4. The learned Government Advocate (Crl. Side) for the respondent Police submitted that it is the issue between the father and son over property dispute and injured is discharged from the hospital. The petitioner is involved in one previous case and the same was disposed of.

5. Considering the facts and circumstances and also considering that it is the issue between the father and son, injured is discharged from the hospital now, no previous case is pending against the petitioner, this Court is inclined to grant anticipatory bail to the petitioner.
