2. The case of the prosecution is that the petitioner forging the signature of the defacto complainant, colluded with the officials attached with the Electricity Board changed the electricity connection in his name. Hence the case.

3. The learned counsel for the petitioner would contend that the petitioner is innocent and he has not committed any offence as alleged by the prosecution and his name has been falsely implicated in this case and hence, prayed for anticipatory bail.

4. The learned Government Advocate (Crl. Side) would submit that forging the signature of the defacto complainant the petitioner has given an application for changing the electricity connection and the same was proved by comparing the signature of the defacto complainant's application and the investigation of the case is pending.

5. On perusal of the First Information Report it is seen that the Department has not compared the signature of the defacto complainant with the original application given by him for changing the Electricity connection and that they have compared only copy with the xerox copy of the alleged application given by the defacto complainant and hence, this Court is inclined to grant anticipatory bail to the
