information, the police party went to the place of occurrence, wherein totally six persons present and on seeing police, they ran away from the spot. However, the police caught three persons and searched them. On search it was found that they were in possession of 6 kgs of ganja. Hence, the case.

3.The learned counsel appearing for the petitioners would submit that the petitioner is an innocent and he has not committed any offence as alleged by the prosecution. Hence, he seeks anticipatory bail.

4.The learned Additional Public Prosecutor appearing for the respondent police would submit that the petitioner also present in the scene of occurrence and she also actively participated in the illegal selling of ganja. Hence, he strongly objected to grant anticipatory bail to the petitioner.

5.Considering the seriousness of the offence committed by the petitioner, this Court is not inclined to grant anticipatory bail to the petitioner. Accordingly, this criminal original petition is dismissed.
