Learned senior counsel submits that the amendment sought on various issues was already part of the un-amended written statement including the plea of adverse possession, the present civil revision petition may kindly be disposed of having been not pressed.

Ordered accordingly.

Learned senior counsel submits that while passing the impugned order dated 20.12.2022 (Annexure P-7), certain observations have been made on merits, which may kindly be exempted so that the petitioner might not suffer any prejudice at the later stage.

This Court has no apprehension that the observations, which are part of the order dated 20.12.2022, will not be treated as expression of the Court on merits as the issues framed by the trial court will be decided on the basis of the evidence, which will come on record without there being any influence qua the observation, if any, recorded in the present impugned order.

Keeping in view the above, the present civil revision petition is disposed of having been not pressed.
