SURESHWAR THAKUR, J.(ORAL)

1. Since the instant writ petition challenges the dismissal of the objections, raised to the issuance of the acquisition notice, but, when the said dismissal order, as made on the relevant objections, has resulted in an award being pronounced by the competent authority concerned, which becomes enclosed in Annexure P-7, appended to the writ petition. Hence when the impugned order has merged in the final award, therefore, after leaving all liberties to the petitioner to challenge the said award through his recouring the remedy of arbitration, before the competent authority concerned, the present writ petition is disposed of.
