KARAMJIT SINGH, J. (Oral)

1. This order will dispose of above titled appeals involving same questions of fact and law.

2. The facts are taken from FAO-7454-2015. This appeal has been filed by the appellant-Indian Oil Corporation against the order dated 04.06.2015 passed by the Railway Claims Tribunal, Chandigarh Bench, whereby the claim application filed by the appellant for grant of compensation of access recovery of siding and shunting charges at Bahauli terminal were dismissed.
3. The brief facts of the case are that the appellant-Indian Oil Corporation filed claim applications seeking refund of ₹271.03 lac levied as siding/shunting charges by the respondent from the period May 1998 to May 2004. The appellant had approached CCM (rates), NR, Baroda House vide letter reference No.OP/41-A/BHUL/04 dated 05.05.2004 for issuing necessary instructions to the Division for not levying shunting charges on the placements/removals at Bahauli siding (Panipat). The CCM(G), NR, vide his DO letter Reference No.1-AC/458/Rates dated 17.08.2004 advised Sr. DCM, Delhi Division to DRM Office Northern Railway, New Delhi that levy of shunting charges at Baholi Siding did not seem to be correct in view of the Northern Railway rates siding Circular No.67 of 1987 and CCM's Officer letter No.1-AC/O/VII/Policy/Pt.1 dated 03.11.1993. DRM© vide his letter Reference No.641-C/336/341-SDG/BHUL dated 28.03.2005 advised CGS, Baholi that in terms of the Northern Railway rates siding Circular No.67 of 1987 and HQ Fetter No.1-AC/O/VII/Policy/Pt.1 dated 03.11.1993 and Para 2512 of Commercial Manual Vol. II, shunting charges on rakes of BTPN/TOH should not be levied. Senior DCM vide its letter dated 6.8.2008 instructed CGS Baholi to adjust the refundable shunting charges for the period 25.9.2001 to May, 2004, however only an amount of ₹55.14 lac was adjusted.

4. The claim petition was contested by the respondent and the Tribunal after hearing both the parties dismissed the said claim petitions vide impugned order dated 4.6.2015.
5. The counsel for the appellant-Indian Oil Corporation submits that the Tribunal without framing any issues with regard to disputed questions of fact or of law, dismissed the claim petition with observation that the same is not maintainable and is time barred and further observed that the claim petition deserves to be dismissed for want of statutory notice under Section 106(3) of Railways Act. The counsel for the appellant further submits that it was mandatory for the Tribunal to frame issues and to give its finding on the issues so framed as per mandate of Rule 21 of Railway Claims Tribunal (Procedure) Rules 1989 (for short 'Rules of 1989') and the impugned order has been passed in complete violation of the aforesaid mandatory provisions of law. The counsel for the appellant further submits that the requirement of service of notice as per provisions of Section 106 of the Railways Act in the instant case, is also debatable issue and could not be decided without framing of issue in this regard. The counsel for the appellant further contends that in the light of the fact that impugned order is passed by the Tribunal in contravention of mandatory provisions of law as has been submitted above, the same deserves to be set aside. In support of his contentions, the counsel for the appellant placed reliance on decision of Gauhati High Court in MFA-63-2009, M/s Hills Trade Agencies vs. Union of India and Another, decided on 16.3.2018.

6. On the other hand the counsel appearing on behalf of the respondent- UOI while supporting the impugned order, submits that there was no need for the Tribunal to frame issues as the claim petition was clearly time barred and even otherwise not maintainable for want of notice under Section 106(3) of the Railways Act. It is further submitted that the concerned Railway receipts as alleged by the appellant are not complete as no specific details of the same are provided by the appellant in the claim petition. The counsel for the respondent further submits that the impugned order has been passed by the tribunal in consonance with the provisions of Railways Act, 1989 and Railway Claims Tribunal Act, 1987 and the Rules framed thereunder.
7. I have considered submissions made by counsel for the parties.
8. Admittedly in the present case, the Tribunal while deciding the matter in dispute did not frame any issues on the basis of the pleadings of the appellant and the defence taken by the respondent and further the parties were not given any opportunity to adduce their evidence. The provisions of Rule 21 of Rules of 1989 provides for framing and determination of issues by the Tribunal. In compliance of the aforesaid Rules of 1989, the Tribunal should have framed issues with regard to proposition of facts and law, on which the parties are at variance and requires adjudication by the Tribunal. While recording the issues, the Tribunal has to distinguish between those issues, which in its opinion concern points of facts and those which concern points of law. Rule 21 further provides that after framing the issues, the Tribunal shall proceed to record evidence thereon which each party may desire to produce.

9. It is evident that in the present case the aforesaid mandatory provisions of Rule 21 of Rules of 1989 are totally ignored by the Tribunal and the impugned order dismissing the claim petitions of the appellant has been passed without framing any issue either on fact or law and without recording any evidence and the findings regarding maintainability of the claim petition were given against the appellant just after giving opportunity of hearing to both the parties, in violation of Rule 21 of Rules of 1989.
10. For the aforesaid reasons, the impugned order is not sustainable under law and is hereby set aside and the claim petitions are remanded back to the Railway Claims Tribunal, Chandigarh Bench to decide the matter afresh, after framing issues of fact as well as law and then to record the evidence of both the parties and to give its findings on all the issues so framed as per law particularly in accordance with procedure laid down in Rule 21 of Rules of 1989.
11. The parties are directed to appear before the Tribunal concerned on 25.9.2023.
12. The appeals stand disposed of in aforesaid terms.
