ALKA SARIN, J. (Oral)

1. The present petition has been filed under Section 482 of the Code of Criminal Procedure, 1973 for quashing of FIR No.57 dated 19.02.2021 under Sections 323, 324, 341, 506, 34 of the Indian Penal Code, 1860 (IPC) (Sections 325, 326, 354-B IPC added later on), registered at Police Station Ranjit Avenue, Police District Police Commissionerate Amritsar, District Amritsar (Annexure P-1), and all subsequent proceedings arising out of the said FIR, on the basis of compromise dated 14.09.2022 (Annexure P-2).

2. On 13.12.2022 the following order was passed :

“Prayer in this petition filed under Section 482 Cr.P.C. is for quashing of FIR No.57 dated 19.02.2021, registered under Sections 323, 324, 341, 506, 34 IPC (Sections 325, 326, 354-B IPC added later on) at Police Station Ranjit Avenue, Police District Police Commissionerate Amritsar, District Amritsar and all the other consequential proceedings arising therefrom, on the basis of the compromise deed, dated 14.09.2022 (Annexure P-2).

It has been submitted by counsel for the petitioners that the parties have amicably compromised the matter and as such prosecution of the petitioners is nothing but an abuse of the process of the Court.

Notice of motion.

On the asking of the Court, Mr.Sandeep Kumar, DAG, Punjab, who is present in Court, accepts notice on behalf of the respondent/State.

Ms.Deep Shivjyot Mann, Advocate, who is also present in Court, accepts notice on behalf of respondents No.2 (complainant) to 4 and has affirmed the assertions made by learned counsel for the petitioners.

In view of above, both the parties are directed to appear before the concerned Illaqa Magistrate/Duty Magistrate on 11.01.2023 for recording their statements, who shall record their respective statements with regard to the genuineness/correctness of the compromise and that the compromise is not the result of any fraud or misrepresentation and is the result of free will of the parties. It would also be verified that besides the accused (petitioners) mentioned in the petition, there is no other accused in the FIR and the parties are not involved or declared proclaimed offender in any other criminal case. The Illaqa Magistrate/Duty Magistrate shall send his/her report through learned Sessions Judge concerned on or before the date fixed before this Court.

Adjourned to 29.03.2023”

3. Pursuant to the order dated 13.12.2022 a report dated 24.03.2023 of the Judicial Magistrate 1st Class, Amritsar has been received by this Court wherein it has been stated that the statements of the parties have been recorded and the parties have stated that they have compromised the matter voluntarily without any threat, pressure, undue influence or fraud and that the complainant/respondent No.2 has no objection to the quashing of the present FIR. Statements of the parties have also been appended with the report.

4. Learned counsel for the petitioners has also pointed out that the parties have since compromised the matter.

5. Learned counsel for respondent Nos.2 to 4 has reiterated that the parties have since compromised the matter and that she has no objection if the present FIR is quashed.

6. The Apex Court in the case of Gian Singh vs. State of Punjab & Anr. [2012 (10) SCC 303] has held as under :

“57. The position that emerges from the above discussion can be summarised thus: the power of the High Court in quashing a criminal proceeding or FIR or complaint in exercise of its inherent jurisdiction is distinct and different from the power given to a criminal court for compounding the offences under Section 320 of the Code. Inherent power is of wide plenitude with no statutory limitation but it has to be exercised in accord with the guideline engrafted in such power viz; (i) to secure the ends of justice or (ii) to prevent abuse of the process of any Court. In what cases power to quash the criminal proceeding or complaint or F.I.R may be exercised where the offender and victim have settled their dispute would depend on the facts and circumstances of each case and no category can be prescribed. However, before exercise of such power, the High Court must have due regard to the nature and gravity of the crime. Heinous and serious offences of mental depravity or offences like murder, rape, dacoity, etc. cannot be fittingly quashed even though the victim or victim's family and the offender have settled the dispute. Such offences are not private in nature and have serious impact on society. Similarly, any compromise between the victim and offender in relation to the offences under special statutes like Prevention of Corruption Act or the offences committed by public servants while working in that capacity etc; cannot provide for any basis for quashing criminal proceedings involving such offences. But the criminal cases having overwhelmingly and pre-dominatingly civil flavour stand on different footing for the purposes of quashing, particularly the offences arising from commercial, financial, mercantile, civil, partnership or such like transactions or the offences arising out of matrimony relating to dowry, etc. or the family disputes where the wrong is basically private or personal in nature and the parties have resolved their entire dispute. In this category of cases, High Court may quash criminal proceedings if in its view, because of the compromise between the offender and victim, the possibility of conviction is remote and bleak and continuation of criminal case would put accused to great oppression and prejudice and extreme injustice would be caused to him by not quashing the criminal case despite full and complete settlement and compromise with the victim. In other words, the High Court must consider whether it would be unfair or contrary to the interest of justice to continue with the criminal proceeding or continuation of the criminal proceeding would tantamount to abuse of process of law despite settlement and compromise between the victim and wrongdoer and whether to secure the ends of justice, it is appropriate that criminal case is put to an end and if the answer to the above question(s) is in affirmative, the High Court shall be well within its jurisdiction to quash the criminal proceeding.”

7. Learned counsel for the petitioners has also referred to the law laid down by this Court in Kulwinder Singh & Ors. vs. State of Punjab & Anr. [2007 (3) RCR (Criminal) 1052] wherein it has been held that even in non-compoundable offences, if the parties have entered into a compromise, this Court has wide powers under Section 482 CrPC to quash the proceedings to prevent abuse of law and secure the ends of justice.

8. In view of the above and keeping in view the report by the Trial Court that the parties have genuinely entered into a compromise and all the disputes between the parties have been resolved, it would not be in the interest of justice to continue the criminal proceedings.

9. Resultantly, FIR No.57 dated 19.02.2021 under Sections 323, 324, 341, 506, 34 of the Indian Penal Code, 1860 (IPC) (Sections 325, 326, 354-B IPC added later on), registered at Police Station Ranjit Avenue, Police District Police Commissionerate Amritsar, District Amritsar (Annexure P-1) is quashed, including all subsequent proceedings arising out of the said FIR, on the basis of compromise dated 14.09.2022 (Annexure P-2).

10. The petition is accordingly allowed. Pending applications, if any, also stand disposed off.
