Harsimran Singh Sethi, J. (Oral)

Learned counsel for the respondents submits that the benefits which are being claimed in the present petition, have already been released in favour of the petitioner and even the petitioner had already given in writing that he will not contest the petition as the relief has already been extended to him.

No one appears on behalf of the petitioner to rebut the said contention.

Keeping in view the above, present petition is disposed of having been rendered infructuous with liberty to the petitioner to revive the same in case the statement made by the learned counsel for the respondents is found to be incorrect.
