8. The Supreme Court in Pepsi Foods Ltd. V Special Judicial Magistrate

regarding summoning observed as under:-

28. Summoning of an accused in a criminal case is a serious matter. Criminal law cannot be set into motion as a matter of course. It is not that the complainant has to bring only two witnesses to support his allegations in the complaint to have the criminal law set into motion. The order of the Magistrate summoning the accused must reflect that he has applied his mind to the facts of the case and the law applicable thereto. He has to examine the nature of allegations made in the complaint and the evidence both oral and documentary in support thereof and would that be sufficient for the complainant to succeed in bringing charge home to the accused. It is not that the Magistrate is a silent spectator at the time of recording of preliminary evidence before summoning of the accused. The Magistrate has to carefully scrutinize the evidence brought on record and may even himself put questions to the complainant and his witnesses to elicit answers to find out the truthfulness of the allegations or otherwise and then examine if any offence is prima facie committed by all or any of the accused.

9. The Supreme Court in Tedhi Singh V Narayan Dass Mahant, Criminal Appeal No 362 of 2022 (arising out of SLP (Crl) No.1963 of 2019) decided on referred Basalingapa V Mudibasappa, (2019) 5 SCC 418 wherein it was observed as under:-

25. We having noticed the ratio laid down by this Court in the above cases on Sections 118(a) and 139, we now summarise the principles enumerated by this Court in following manner:

25.1. Once the execution of cheque is admitted Section 139 of the Act mandates a presumption that the cheque was for the discharge of any debt or other liability.

25.2. The presumption under Section 139 is a rebuttable presumption and the onus is on the accused to raise the probable defence. The standard of proof for rebutting the presumption is that of preponderance of probabilities.

25.3. To rebut the presumption, it is open for the accused to rely on evidence led by him or the accused can also rely on the materials submitted by the complainant in order to raise a probable defence. Inference of preponderance of probabilities can be drawn not only from the materials brought on record by the parties but also by reference to the circumstances upon which they rely.

10. The petitioners primarily impugned summoning order dated 23.10.2018 on the grounds that the cheque bearing no 997642 which is basis of present complaint was found to be stolen/lost in the year 2014 along with two other cheques bearing no 997643, 997644 and 997645 and these cheques were prepared in November, 2013 to meet out emergency expenses of petitioner no 1 and were kept at the offices of petitioner no 1. The petitioners to substantiate plea of lost cheques also stated additional facts that the petitioner no 2 on behalf of the petitioner no 1 fearing misuse of these undated signed blank cheques has intimated vide letter dated 27.09.2014 to its bankers directing that any payment against these cheques be stopped and also wrote a complaint to the SHO, Police Station Mehrauli, New Delhi on 27.9.2014 and thereafter First Information Report in respect of non-cognizable offence under section 155 of the Code bearing NCR No. 1361/2014 dated 01.10.2014 was also recorded. The petitioners no 1 and 2 also receipt of legal notice dated 28.08.2018 on behalf of Pankaj Jain, Director of M/s Host Finance and Investment Pvt. Ltd. under section 138 of NI Act in respect to cheque bearing no 997645 which was allegedly dishonoured by the bankers of the petitioner no 1 on ground of "insufficient funds". M/s Host Finance and Investment Pvt. Ltd. filed a private criminal complaint no 194/2018 against the petitioners no 1 and 2 before the court of CJM, Anantnag on the basis of cheque bearing no 997645 under sections 420/109/120B/34/403/406/ 506/507 Ranbir Penal Code. It was alleged that M/s Host finance and Investment Pvt. Ltd. company and its representatives had criminally misappropriated / stolen 4 cheques including the cheque bearing no 997645. FIR bearing no 732/2018 under section 380 IPC dated 12.11.2018 was got registered against Pankaj Jain and Ashok Kumar, Directors of M/s Host Finance and Investment Pvt. Ltd. M/s Host Finance and Investment Pvt. Ltd. on 15.10.2018 also filed a complaint case no 219/2018 under section 138 NI Act on basis of dishonour of cheque no 997945 titled Pankaj Jain V Topline Buildtech Pvt. Ltd. & others before the District Mobile Magistrate Traffic, Anantnag District Courts, Kashmir against the petitioner no 1. It is also pleaded that the High Court of Jammu and Kashmir at Srinagar vide order dated 11.12.2018 passed in Cr.M.C. no 479/2018 stayed the proceedings in the private criminal complaint no. 194/2018 and vide order dated 03.04.2019 passed in Cr.M.C. no 92/2019 stayed the proceedings in complaint case bearing no 219/2018.

11. The Supreme Court in Raj Kumar Khurana V State of (NCT of Delhi) & another, Criminal Appeal No 913 of 2009 decided on 5th May,

CRL.M.C. 3386/2019

2009 considered issue whether return of a cheque by the bank on the ground that it was reported lost by the drawer would attract the penal provisions contained in Section 138 of the Negotiable Instruments Act, 1881. It was observed that the parameters for invoking the provisions of Section 138 of the Act being limited, the refusal on the part of the bank to honour the lost cheque would not bring the matter within the provisions of Section 138 of the Act. The Allahabad High Court in Bobby Anand @ Yogesh Anand V State of U.P. and another, Application under section 482 bearing no 7631 of 2008 decided on 17th May, 2023 after referring Raj Kumar Khurana V State of (NCT of Delhi) observed that if a cheque is returned by the bank on the ground "cheque reported lost" would not bring the matter within the penal provisions of Section 138 N.I. Act. A coordinate bench of this court in Rajeev Ranjan Sinha V Sushil Kumar Saxena, 2022 SCC OnLine Del 1577 decided on 26-5-2022 observed that it was for the petitioner to prove the plea that the cheque had been reported 'lost'. He would have an opportunity to cross-examine the bank officials to establish that they had an obligation to have refused honouring the cheque on the ground that the cheque had been reported 'lost' by the drawer, to get the benefit of the decision in Raj Kumar Khurana V State of (NCT of Delhi), (2009) 6

SCC 72. It was further observed that the trial Court was right in holding that the loss of cheque could be ascertained only during trial.

12. It is apparent that cheques bearing no 997642 which is basis of present complaint is dated 01.06.2018 while the petitioner no 1 through the petitioner no 2 intimated its banker vide letter dated 27.09.2014 to stop any payment against these cheques and made a complaint to the SHO, Police Station Mehrauli, New Delhi on 27.9.2014 vide NCR No. 1361/2014 dated 01.10.2014 i.e. much prior from alleged dates of issuance of cheque bearing no 997642. However plea of the petitioners that cheque bearing no 997642 which is basis of present complaint was lost in year 2014 much prior to issuance of the cheque in favour of the respondent no 2 can only be established during trial and on basis of the evidence to be led by the petitioners and the respondent no 2. The proposed defence of the petitioners as detailed hereinabove cannot be legally considered at time of taking cognizance by the trial court which is obliged to take cognizance merely on basis of allegations as made in complaint and pre summoning evidence if any.

13. On the basis of pleas as taken in the present petition and arguments advanced by the learned Senior Counsel for the petitioners, the summoning order dated 23.10.2018 cannot be recalled. The petition is devoid of any merit. Hence, the present petition along with pending applications, if any, stands dismissed. Interim stay, if any, stands vacated. However, the petitioners shall be at liberty to raise all the pleas and contentions, as mentioned in the petition during the trial.
