2. This application, for grant of anticipatory bail, arises out of Aayar PS case no. 118 of 2023, disclosing offences punishable under Sections 354(B), 307 and other allied sections of the Indian Penal Code.
3. The prosecution story, as per the First Information report, is that on 10.09.2023, in the morning, when the daughter of the informant had gone to market for purchasing some articles, then co-accused Chand Thakur misbehaved with her, which was objected by the informant's daughter. It has further been alleged that the accused persons entered into the house of the informant and co-accused Chand Thakur pulled down the informant's wife on the ground and assaulted her causing head injury etc. Co-accused Ramesh Thakur pulled informant's daughter by her hair and also assaulted her.

4. Learned Counsel for the petitioner submits that the petitioner has falsely been implicated in this case along with his family members due to land dispute between the parties. It is next submitted that injuries caused to the informant's wife are simple in nature.

Regard being had to the submissions made on behalf of the parties and taking into consideration the fact that both parties have land dispute between them and injuries caused to the informant's wife are simple in nature and a Title Suit is pending between them, I am inclined to grant the privilege of anticipatory bail to the petitioner.
