Mr. Ashok Das

... .. for the State

1. It is submitted on behalf of the petitioners that they are in custody for about two years and six months. It is further submitted there is inordinate delay in trial. Accordingly, they pray for bail.
2. Learned Advocate for the State opposes the prayer for bail and submits two witnesses have already been examined.
3. We have considered the materials on record. Though narcotics above commercial quantity was recovered from the petitioners, they have suffered incarceration for about two years and six months. Only two witnesses have been examined till date. There is little possibility of trial concluding in the near future. Under such circumstances, we are of the opinion petitioners have been able to make out a case of breach of their fundamental right to speedy trial and they are entitled to bail on this score. Bail prayer on the ground of inordinate delay in trial is not fettered by restrictions under Section 37 of the NDPS Act. Reference in this regard may be made to Rabi Prakash vs. The State of Odisha¹.
