3. The Learned Court after considering the evidence laid before it along the land references held that the just and fair compensation for the land as given in the chart.

4. Learned Advocate for the Appellant vehemently argued the Appeals. First ground is that the references were not filed within six weeks from the date of award and thus they are beyond limitation. Those ought not to have been entertained by Reference Court. Section 4 notification was issued on 2nd July, 1994 in LAR Nos.4 of 2004, 5 of 2004 & 6 of 2004 & 16th April, 1996 in LAR No.7 of 2004. The references are filed under Section 12(2) of Land Acquisition Act, on 4th April, 1997 beyond limitation. Notice for taking compensation was issued on 27th February, 1997 and the references are filed on 4th April, 1997. 27th February, 1997 was the returnable date of notice under Section 12(2) of the Land Acquisition Act. The Claimants have not shown when they received notice. Learned Court had considered the land having non-agricultural potential when in fact those were not converted in to non-agricultural land. The instances of the same i.e. 1992, 6th September, 1993 relied upon by the Court. The forth instance was after Section 4 notification and therefore could not have been considered by the Court. The instances are in respect of small plots whereas the lands of the claimants are larger lands and therefore this rate in the sale instances could not have been considered as larger the area lesser the rate. The evidence of the expert witness of the acquiring body was discarded by the Court. The claimants could not prove their case.

5. In rejoinder the learned Advocate for the Appellant again submitted that the notice of the award under the Act is constructive notice. The panchnama of taking possession is on 27th February, 1997 the said date cannot be taken to be the date of notice. She submits that as per Section 18 the limitation is six weeks from the date of Collector's Award. It was specifically for the claimants to show that they had no notice in view of Section 106 of the Evidence Act. She submits that the rate of the land should have been at the most Rs.320/- per sq. meter.

6. Learned Advocate for the Appellant relied upon the Judgments as below.

- (1) *Special Land Acquisition Officer, Bangalore Vs. T. Adinarayan Setty*¹
- (2) *Viluben Jhalejar Contractor (Dead) by Lrs. Vs. State of Gujarat*²
- (3) *Balvir Singh Vs. State of Uttarakhand*³
- (4) *Premlata And Ors. Vs. State of Maharashtra And Ors.*⁴

7. As to whether the Court has rightly considered the references. Learned Advocate for the Respondents relied upon the Judgments as below.

- (1) *Subh Ram And Others Vs. State of Haryana And Another*⁵.
- (2) *Mohammad Yusuf And Vs. State of Haryana And Others*⁶.
- (3) *Bhanushankar Oghadbhai Mehta (dead) by Legal Representatives Vs. Gujarat Industrial Development Corporation Limited And Another*⁷.

8. In the case of Special Land Acquisition Officer, it was held that the High Court had adopted a wrong method in ascertaining the market value of the land at the relevant time. The Court has to consider the compensation by ascertaining the market value of the land as on the date of notification under Section 4(1). The methods of valuation may be (1) opinion of experts, (2) the price paid within a reasonable time in bona fide transactions of purchase of the lands acquired or the lands adjacent to the lands acquired and possessing similar advantages, and (3) a year of purchase of the actual or immediately prospective profits of the lands acquired. In that case the Court held that the High Court adopted the second method that is considering the price within the reasonable time in bona fide transactions. In that case the sale instances High Court had considered only four instances out of six instances & taken the average of all the said instances without giving sufficient reason as to why two instances are excluded. In that case it was observed that there was arbitrary selection of four transactions and therefore the same was vitiated as the consideration of all the transactions would have changed the average rate.

9 2023 (1) Mh.L.J. 191

10 1969 (3) SCC 735

9. In the case of Viluben Jhalejar (supra) the Hon'ble Apex Court held that the market value is ordinarily the price of the property that may fetch in the open market if sold by a willing seller unaffected by the Special needs of a particular purchase. It was also held that the smaller plot may be within the reach of many, a large block of land will have to be developed preparing a layout plan, carving out roads, leaving open spaces, plotting out smaller plots, etc. Such development charges are also required to be paid between 20% & 50% of the total price.

10. In the case of Balvir Singh (supra) this is in respect of Section 106 of the Indian Evidence Act, wherein it is for the person who has to prove the guilt exclusively within his personal knowledge. This is with respect to her submission that it was for the Claimants to show exact date of knowledge.

11. In the case of Premkata (supra) the Hon'ble Court has held that all sale instances were in respect of small plots of land are not comparable to a large extent of land for the purpose of determining the compensation. It is also further held that two kinds of deductions are required to be made in respect of large tract i.e. (i) for development, and (ii) in case of small area, the transactions are exemplar. In that case the sale instance was in respect of 135 sq. metres. Whereas the land acquired is a large area, i.e. 45 Hectares 89 R. and this was held that the sale instances could not have been considered while determining the rate of such bigger land. Considering huge difference in size in this case this Court does not find that the same is applicable in case in hand.

12. Learned Advocate for the Respondents cross-objector relied judgment in the case of Subh Ram (supra) the Hon'ble Apex Court has considered that when all the lands are acquired for the same purpose irrespective of quality of the land or the situation of the land uniform rate needs to be given to all the lands.

13. In the case of Mohammad Yusuf (supra) the Hon'ble Apex Court has observed that it is well settled that when there are several exemplars with reference to similar land, usually the highest of the exemplars which is a bona fide transaction, will be considered.

14. In the case of Bhanushankar Mehta (supra) the Hon'ble Apex Court awarded interest on the solatium amount based on the Constitution Bench in the case of Sunder Vs. union of India (2001)7 SCC 211.

15. In the case of Madhukar Kamble (supra) the Hon'ble Apex considered the evidence in that case produced by the land owners showing that the acquired land was close to Educational Institutions, Banks, Tahsil Office etc. It is further held that it is not the nature of the land which alone is determinative of the market value of the land. The market value must be determined keeping in view various factors including proximity to the developed area and the road etc.,

16. In the case of Rauji Naik (supra) this Court there was evidence to show that the land acquired was following within the commercial zone. The Appeals of the claimant were allowed by enhancing the amount of compensation of Rs.450/- per sq. mtr.

17. In the case of Ebrahim Akbaralli (supra) the Hon'ble Apex Court has considered that though the large portion of the acquired land was technically agricultural land, it was held that the nomenclature is not material when the land has potentiality of non-agricultural land. It is the case from the same Pandharpur Municipality from which present appeals are arisen.

18. In the case of P. Ram Reddy (supra) the Court considered the use to which the land can be put and also the purpose of the acquisition which need to be considered while determining the market value.

19. Learned Advocate for the Respondents strenuously argued that the Court ought to have allowed the reference in toto. This aspect will be considered while discussing the Appeal.

20. Keeping in view ratio of all the above Judgments this Court needs consider as to whether in the present case the Reference Court has properly considered and appreciated the evidence before him and the law while determining the amount of compensation.

21. Looking to the judgment, this Court finds that the learned Reference Court has rightly considered the judgments in the LAR Nos.5 of 2004 & 6 of 2004 passed by the District Court. Further it is considered that the lands are situated within the zone-1 of Pandharpur Municipality. Some part of land is already converted into non-agricultural land and buildings have already been constructed adjacent to the Respondent's land. The Court has rightly considered that the land would fetch price of non-agricultural land. On the issue of limitation also the Court has rightly held in favour of the Claimants. This Court does not find in force in the arguments of the Appellants as well as Respondents/cross-objectionist.

22. Considering all above, this Court finds that no case is made out calling for interference at the hands of this Court. The Appeals are therefore dismissed. Cross objection also stand dismissed with no order as to costs.

23. Pending Applications also stand disposed of.
