

4. Thus, there is sufficient incriminating material available on record to show the implicity of the applicant in the alleged offence. As far as trial is concerned, the charge is framed and there is a possibility that the trial will be concluded in near future.

5. In the circumstance, considering the nature of allegations and the evidence collected by the IO, during the investigation, I am of the opinion that this is not a fit case for grant of bail.

6. Moreover, after the withdrawal of the first application no change in circumstances are pointed out to maintain the present successive application. Accordingly, the application is rejected.
