

which was meant for the owner of the land acquired by the government and who had expired. The offence is serious and it is evident from the record that the applicant is the main accused.

4. In the circumstances, though certain amount was recovered, that cannot be a ground for grant of bail. Thus, considering the seriousness of the offence and nature of the evidence available on record, I am of the opinion that this is not a fit case for grant of bail.

5. Accordingly, the application is rejected.

6. At this stage, the said applicant seeks permission to move afresh if there is no progress in the trial.

7. Liberty is granted to the applicant to apply afresh for grant of bail before the trial Court if there is no progress in the trial in next one year.

8. The learned counsel for the applicant undertakes to place the copy of this order on the record of the trial Court within two weeks from today.
