The petitioners apprehend arrest for the alleged offences under Section 406 and 420 of I.P.C. in Crime No.5 of 2023, on the file of the respondent police seeks anticipatory bail.

2. The case of the prosecution is that petitioners and the defacto complainant had entered into business transaction in the year 2008. While so, the petitioners have cheated a sum of Rs. 21,46,446/- from the defacto complainant. When the defacto complainant insisted them to return back the money, the petitioners have threatened the defacto complainant with dire consequence. Hence, the complaint.

3. The learned counsel appearing for the petitioners submits that the petitioners are an innocent person and they have not committed any such offence as alleged by the prosecution. The petitioners have been falsely implicated in this case. However, on instructions, the learned counsel further submits that the petitioners are ready and willing to abide by any conditions that may be imposed by this Court and he prays to grant anticipatory bail to the petitioners.

CrI.O.P.No.4978 of 2023

4. The learned Government Advocate (Criminal Side) appearing for the respondent police submitted that petitioners have purchased goods from the defacto complainant and had cheated him and and he further submitted that there is no previous case pending against the petitioner. However, he opposed to grant bail to the petitioner.

5. Learned counsel appearing for the intervenor would submits that the transaction between the defacto complainant and the petitioners have taken place in the year 2008 and the petitioners had assured that they would settle the amount, however, they have not settled the amount. Hence, he opposed to grant Anticipatory bail to the petitioners.

6. Considering the representations made by both sides and considering the nature of offences charged against the petitioners and also considering the fact that there is a business transaction between the parties and that there is no previous case pending against the petitioners and considering other aspects, this Court is inclined to grant anticipatory bail to the petitioners with certain conditions.
