2.The case of the prosecution is that the petitioner was found with illegal possession of two units of morambu sand by the respondent, when they were on routine night inspection and fled from the scene and had intentionally drove the vehicle in a rash and negligent manner. Then, the respondent registered a complaint against the petitioner. Hence the case.

He further submitted that the petitioner is ready and willing to furnish substantial sureties for his due release and to abide by any conditions that may be imposed by this Hon'ble Court and therefore, he prayed to grant anticipatory bail to the petitioner.

4. The learned Government Advocate (Criminal Side) appearing for the respondent police opposed for granting anticipatory bail to the petitioner by stating that petitioner was found with illegal possession of two units of morambu sand and there is no previous case pending against the petitioner.

5. Considering the submissions made on both sides and considering the quantity of the material involved in this case and there is no previous case pending against the petitioner and the nature of offence, this Court is inclined to grant anticipatory bail to the petitioner with certain conditions.

6. Accordingly, the petitioner is ordered to be released on bail in the event of arrest or on his appearance, within a period of fifteen (15) days from the date of receipt of a copy of this order before the learned Judicial Magistrate, Katpadi on condition that the petitioner shall execute a bond for a sum of Rs.10,000/- (Rupees Ten Thousand Only), with two sureties, each for a like sum to the satisfaction of the respondent police or the police officer who intends to arrest or to the satisfaction of the learned Magistrate concerned and on further condition that:
