For Respondent : Mrs.K.Vasanthamala
Government Advocate (T)

Order

W.P.No.25554 of 2024

The challenge in this Writ Petition is to the order dated 07.12.2023, passed by the respondent for the year 2017-18 and to quash the same and consequently, to direct the respondent to grant an opportunity of personal hearing.

2. Mr.M.Desingu, learned counsel for the petitioner would submit that the petitioner has been filing returns even since the date of registration under the GST Act, however, subsequent to the introduction of the GST Act in the midstream (i.e.) from 01.07.2017, the petitioner is not well accustomed to the procedure to be adopted under the new enactment, hence, he engaged a Consultant for filing returns; that for the FY 2017-18, the petitioner has been issued with the show cause notice, unfortunately, the Consultant did not inform the petitioner about the proceedings dated 05.09.2023, hence, the petitioner failed to note those notices and also could not submit reply to the notices. However, the respondent, without hearing the petitioner and passed the impugned order, confirming the proposals contained in the show cause notice.

2.1 Therefore, the learned counsel would submit that the impugned order suffers from violation of principles of natural justice and is liable to be aside. However, the learned counsel would submit that in the event, this Court is inclined to set aside the impugned order, the petitioner is agreeable to pay 10% of the disputed tax amount and hence, prayed for appropriate orders.

3. Mrs.K.Vasanthamala, learned Government Advocate (T) for the respondent fairly submitted that if the petitioner is ready and willing to deposit 10% of the disputed tax, then, the prayer sought for by the petitioner may be considered.

4. I have given due considerations to the submissions made on either side and perused the materials available on record.

5. The petitioner is an assessee on the files of the respondent registered under the provisions of the Goods and Services Act 2017. The petitioner has been filing returns even since the date of registration under the GST Act, however, subsequent to the introduction of the GST Act in the midstream (i.e.) from 01.07.2017, there was considerable ambiguity in the procedure to be adopted under the new enactment, during which point of time, the petitioner has been issued with the show cause notice alleging that there was an excess availment of ITC in the monthly GSTR-3B returns than the GSTR-2B for the FY 2017-18.

5.1 The petitioner, being a small dealer, engaged in the business of buying and selling used waste plastic bottles, is not well accustomed with the new procedure adopted under the new GST Act, therefore, the petitioner was not aware of any such notice, and even the Consultant, whom the petitioner has engaged for compliance of the monthly returns, failed to inform the petitioner about the proceedings dated 05.09.2023. Hence, the petitioner failed to note all the notices/communications and could not file reply, which culminated in the impugned order. However, the respondent, without hearing the petitioner, passed the impugned order, confirming the proposals contained in the show cause notice.

5.2 Thus, it is crystal clear that the impugned order came to be passed against the petitioner, without even providing an opportunity of personal hearing to the petitioner, which is in violation of principles of natural justice. This is sufficient to hold that the impugned order is nothing but ex parte order, which is unsustainable in the eye of law. Hence, this Court is inclined to set aside the impugned order dated 07.12.2024.

6. Accordingly, this Court passes the following orders:-

i) The impugned order dated 07.12.2023 is set aside and the matter is remanded back to the Authority concerned for fresh consideration.

ii) While remanding the matter, it is made clear that the impugned order is set aside subject to the condition that the petitioner deposits 10% of the disputed tax within a period of four weeks from the date of receipt of a copy of this order.

iii) Thereafter, the petitioner shall file a reply within three weeks and after the filing of reply, the respondent is directed to provide personal opportunity of hearing by issuing clear 14 days notice and after hearing the petitioner in full, shall pass necessary orders in accordance with law.
