P.DHANABAL, J.

The petitioner apprehends arrest for the alleged offences under Sections 294(a), 323 and 506(1) of IPC r/w Section 4 of the Tamil Nadu Prohibition of Harassment of Women Act, 2002 in Crime No.185 of 2024, on the file of the respondent police, seeks anticipatory bail.

2. The case of the prosecution is that the de facto complainant and the first accused had illegal affair and it is alleged that the petitioner threatened her using photographs and videographs taken by the first accused and de facto complainant. Hence, the complaint.

3. The learned counsel appearing for the petitioner submits that the petitioner had not committed any offence as alleged and the petitioner had been falsely implicated in this case. He further submitted that the petitioner is ready and willing to furnish substantial sureties for his due release and abide by any condition that may be imposed by this Court and therefore, he prayed to grant anticipatory bail to the petitioner .

4. The learned Government Advocate (Criminal Side) appearing for the respondent police submitted that the first accused and the de facto complainant had illegal affair, during which the the second accused friend of petitioner had borrowed some amount from the de facto complainant. When she asked the petitioner to repay the same, he threatened her using photographs and videographs that were taken with the first accused. He submitted that there is no previous case as against the petitioner and also considering the gravity of offences, he opposed for grant of anticipatory bail to the petitioner .

5. Considering the representations made by both sides and considering the nature of offences charged against the petitioner and that there is no previous case as against the petitioner and the main accused was arrested and released on bail, this Court is inclined to grant anticipatory bail to the petitioner with certain conditions.

6. Accordingly, the petitioner is ordered to be released on bail in the event of arrest or on his/her appearance, within a period of fifteen (15) days from the date of receipt of a copy of this order before the
