4. On perusing the complaint, this Court finds that it is a matter for enquiry and prima facie concluded that the dispute between the defacto complainant and the petitioner is purely civil in nature. Therefore, it is appropriate for the petitioner herein to cooperate with the investigation and produce the documents to establish that he has received money from the defacto complainant's son for the purpose of business and not with any intention for selling iridium or cheat.

5. Therefore, this Criminal Original Petition is disposed of with direction to the petitioner herein to participate in the enquiry on receipt of summons. The respondent police is also directed to issue summons and that summons should be issued well in advance to enable the petitioner herein to participate in the enquiry.
