The petitioners apprehend arrest for the alleged offences under Section 296(b), 115(2), 118(1) and 351(3) of B.N.S, 2023 in Crime No.424 of 2024, on the file of the respondent police seeks anticipatory bail.

2. The case of the prosecution is that on the occasion of Vinayagar Chathurthi, while the festive procession was going on, these petitioners abused the defacto complainant with filthy language as well as assaulted and also intimidated with dire consequences. Hence, the complaint.

3. The learned counsel appearing for the petitioners submits that the petitioners are an innocent person and they have not committed any such offence as alleged by the prosecution. The petitioners have been falsely implicated in this case. However, on instructions, the learned counsel further submits that the petitioners are ready and willing to abide by any conditions that may be imposed by this Court and he prays to grant anticipatory bail to the petitioners.

4. The learned Government Advocate (Criminal Side) appearing for the respondent police submitted that on the occasion of Vinayagar Chathurthi, these petitioners have abused the defacto complainant with filthy language as well as assaulted and also intimidated with dire consequences and two previous cases are pending against the first petitioner and one previous case is pending against the second petitioner and he further submitted that there is no previous case pending against the third and fourth petitioners. However, he opposed to grant bail to the petitioners.

5. Considering the representations made by both sides and considering the nature of offences charged against the petitioners and also considering the fact that injured was also discharged from hospital and no previous case pending against the third and fourth petitioners and though some previous cases are pending against the first and second petitioners and in all the cases, the petitioners have released on bail and also considering that there is a case in counter, this Court is inclined to grant anticipatory bail to the petitioners with certain conditions.
