Crl.O.P. No.25390 of 2024

P. DHANABAL.J.,

The petitioner apprehends arrest for the alleged offences under Sections 191(2), 191(3), 296(b), 329(3), 115(2), 118(1), 324(4), 351(3) of Bharatiya Nyaya Sanhita in Crime No.279 of 2024, on the file of the respondent police seeks anticipatory bail.

2. The case of the prosecution is that due to previous enmity, the petitioner and other accused persons have entered into the defacto-complainant's house and attacked the husband of the defacto-complainant and caused injuries and also damaged the household articles and ran away from the spot. Hence the case.

3. The learned counsel for the petitioner would contend that this petitioner is an innocent person and he had not indulged in any illegal activities as alleged by the prosecution and he has been falsely implicated in this case by the respondent police. There is no previous case as against this petitioner. Hence, he seeks anticipatory bail to the petitioner.

4. The learned Government Advocate (Criminal Side) would submit that due to previous enmity, the petitioner and other accused persons have entered into the defacto-complainant's house and attacked the husband of the defacto-complainant and caused injuries and also damaged the household articles and ran away from the spot. In this case, injured persons were discharged from hospital. There is no previous case as against this petitioner. However, the learned Government Advocate (Criminal Side) vehemently opposed to grant anticipatory bail to the petitioner.

5. Heard both side and perused the materials available on record.

6. Considering the rival submissions on either side, considering the nature of offence and considering that there is a family dispute between the parties, the injured persons were discharged from hospital, there is no previous case is pending against the petitioner and also considering other aspects, this court is inclined to grant anticipatory bail to the petitioner, subject to the following conditions:
