2. Heard the learned counsel appearing for the petitioner and the learned Government Advocate appearing for the official respondents and perused the materials available on record.

3. It is seen that the dispute between the parties is civil in nature. The Writ Court cannot conduct a roving enquiry and find out the correctness based on the right and interest over the property. The competent court is a Civil Court which can testify the veracity of the pleadings and the documents by way of oral and documentary evidence.

4. In view of the above, the Writ Petition is dismissed. However, the petitioner is at liberty to workout his remedy before the Civil Court, in the manner known to law. There shall be no order as to costs.
